BRICKER SPEAKS TO GOTHAMITES

Executive Declares That No Relief Crisis Exists

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — The sovereignty of states is America's best safeguard against any threat of dictatorship in the United States, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio told the convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents today.

"The state governments of this country are the surest defense against dictatorship," he declared. "Forty-eight states well-governed, self-governed, dealing with the everyday needs of people, their officials well-known, are the safest guarantee of freedom and the cherished American traditions. They can never be molded into a corporate state or a socialistic society. They are the foundation stones of America."

Bricker also mentioned briefly relief conditions in Ohio, and denied there was "any crisis." He refused again charges made by President Roosevelt and New Deal officials that the Republican administration in Ohio had been neglecting needy persons.

WPA Slash Hit
"Last year in Ohio at election time we had 285,000 persons on WPA," Bricker explained. "Since that time the average reduction in the number of persons on WPA in the United States has been 43 percent. The reduction in Ohio has been 53 percent and in the city of Cleveland over 60 percent, clearly out of keeping with the national program and not consistent with the federal appropriation."

"This increased the relief rolls in Ohio tremendously and the relief responsibility has been left wholly to the states and local communities. This precedent was called, but never was, a crisis in Ohio relief. The power has at all times been in the cities of Ohio to do what they have now done in securing funds to take care of their needs."

Bricker refrained from any direct attacks on the President or his aides. He didn't even mention the "New Deal" but referred only to the "federal government." When he placed the blame for the relief controversy, he did it mildly. He said:

"The federal government by the arbitrary exercise of the au-

THREE YOUNG OUTLAWS CONFESS MANY CRIMES

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15 — Three youthful bandits, two of whom were returned from Findlay, O., last night, confessed three Cincinnati holdups and the shooting of a truck driver, police reported today.

In addition, officers said, the trio confessed a $20 drug store holdup in Detroit, and two of the youths, Earl Healy, 22, and Clarence Rains, 19, admitted two other robberies, a car theft and a kidnapping in northwestern Ohio.

Healy and Rains were captured by a state highway patrol dragnet as they approached Kenton, and were returned to Findlay, where they were held under $10,000 bond each. They were charged with kidnapping and robbing Ernest Golatak near Toledo, and throwing him from his car as they approached Findlay.

The third youth, Tony LaCourt, 23, was captured at Silverton, near Cincinnati, when authorities noticed he was driving a car with stolen tags.

Slayer of Sweetheart Ends Life in Pen Cell

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—William Elam, 41-year-old Cleveland convict serving a life term for the slaying of his sweetheart, ended his life today by slashing his throat in a cell at Ohio penitentiary, Warden Frank D. Henderson reported.

To prevent interference with his plan, the prisoner had barred the door with a chain from his bunk support. Elam was alive when a guard discovered him at 7:30 a. m. but it was 15 minutes before the chain could be removed. The wounded man was rushed to the prison hospital where he died a short time later.

Elam was sentenced from Cuyahoga County in November, 1926 after he was convicted of fatally shooting his sweetheart, Helen Miklos. Prison records disclosed that Elam attempted to take his own life after he had killed the girl.

Bullet Still in Head

A bullet he had fired into his temple at the time of the slaying in September, 1926, never was removed, prison officials declared, and may have been responsible for occasional convulsions he suffered.

Guards were unable to find the weapon Elam used to kill himself. No one heard or saw him commit the act, since he occupied a cell alone.

GRANGERS VOTE DRIVE TO CURB DRINKING HABIT

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15 — Asserting that liquor conditions are "worse" than in the prohibition era, the Ohio State Grange today made plans to launch an educational program to curb drinking.

On the last day of its annual convention, the Grange adopted a resolution condemning liquor conditions and as well, went on record as approving Gov. John W. Bricker's policy of providing relief without imposing additional taxes.

In other resolutions, the Grange asked for local control of relief and for reduction of WPA costs. The organization recommended that the state law be changed to force hunters to get permission from farmers to hunt on their land and asked the conservation department to stop distributing foxes and rabbits in areas in which diseased animals have been found.

VANDAGRIFF DEATH CLAIM OF $900 WINS APPROVAL

Mrs. Vandagriff was fatally injured recently when struck by the auto of Lawrence Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane, Half Avenue. No court suit was filed. The accident happened in Ohio Street just east of Court Street.

Members Of Nazi Crew Begin Task Of Repair

36 SAILORS BURIED

Shipyards Workers Refuse To Help Germans

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 15—The crew of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, still fresh from active participation in the greatest naval conflict of the war to date, took over the tasks of shipyard workers today in a desperate attempt to put the damaged vessel in seaworthy condition.

While the Uruguayan government debated whether to allow the battleship to remain here indefinitely for repairs or to bow to Britain's demand that she be sent to sea almost immediately, Captain Hans Langsdorff purchased a large quantity of materials and set his crew to work patching up the four gaping holes in her hull near the waterline.

Uruguayan dockyard workers had threatened to strike rather than work on repairing the swift sea raider which limped into Montevideo harbor after a long, losing battle with the British light cruisers Ajax, Exeter and Achilles.

Exeter To Enter Port
Coincident with this development, it was learned on good authority that the Exeter herself was so badly damaged that she is unlikely to take any further part in the war. The Exeter, navigating slowly with the aid of tugs, was scheduled to drop anchor shortly at Bahia Blanca, Argentina, with her cargo of some 100 wounded.

Meanwhile, a cortege of 36 hearse-drawn along the shore of Graf Spee this morning in readiness for the largest mass funeral ever witnessed in Montevideo—services for the 36 officers and men of the battleship who died in combat.

First estimates said that 38 (Continued on Page Eight)

CANTON POLICE HUNTING MISSING GIRL STUDENT

CANTON, Dec. 15—Police intensified their search today for 18-year-old Annie Hutchinson, missing from her home two weeks as attempts were made to locate the sender of two "fake" letters, one which said the girl was married and the other saying she is "still happy, with no regrets."

The girl's mother, Mrs. Annie Marshall, said she believed the letters were "fake" because her daughter would have signed them "Nannie," a name she used to distinguish her from her mother. "Neither letter was in my daughter's handwriting," Mrs. Marshall told police.

The girl has not been seen since she left her mother's automobile and started for the McKinley High School building, where she was a student.

SHERMAN LOSES ARM

He is a patient in Mercy Hospital, Columbus. Mr. Sherman is a resident of the Reese Station neighborhood.

JACK GARNER TO ENTER RACE, TEXAN DECLARES

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 15—The nation today had the assurance of E. B. Germany of Dallas, co-chairman of the Garner-For-President Committee, that no matter who else may be in the field, Vice-President John Nance Garner will be a candidate for President in 1940.

FINNS DECLARE REDS USING GAS

Desperate Battle Raging In Northern Area; Ski Troops In Combat

HELSINKI, Dec. 15—Under the polar twilight violent fighting raged in northern Finland today as embattled Finnish troops struggled desperately to hurl back Red army forces from Salmijaervi on the Norwegian border.

The fierce struggle raged on the northern warfront throughout the night and this morning, and the outcome still was in doubt at noon today.

Reports received in Helsinki charged the Russians were using poison gas, both in shells and air bombs, but there was no confirmation.

It was learned, however, that the Russians for the first time threw Red army ski troops into the fray, but they proved far inferior to the highly trained ski units of the Finnish army which have been swooping across the snow on Russian columns since the hostilities began.

Other fronts were comparatively quiet as the Finns sought to regain their hold on Salmijaervi, important nickel-producing town (Continued on Page Eight)

RUSSIAN RADIO SCORES GENEVA TALK BY BRITON

MOSCOW, Dec. 15—Through the medium of the Moscow radio, Soviet Russia today violently attacked the attitude displayed by the Anglo-French Allies at the League of Nations sessions which were culminated with Russia's expulsion from the League.

The radio announcer singled out a statement made by the chief British delegate to Geneva, Richard Butler, who urged the League shortly before it took final action to waste no time in dropping the Soviets.

"Butler's statement," said the announcer, "is an indication of Britain's intention to extend the war to Finland."

MOSCOW, Dec. 15—A secret clause has been added to the Anglo-French-Turkish mutual aid pact establishing an army "against Russia" in Turkey, according to a report broadcast by the Moscow radio today.

The broadcast said the army will be under French command and will consist of 40,000 French, 80,000 British, and 500,000 Turkish troops.

SAFE BURGLAR TO SERVE TIME IN OHIO PRISON

Felix Frank Jachim Admits
Attempting To Rob Mill
Company Offices

TERM ONE TO 15 YEARS

Sentence Is Second Handed
To Strong Box Artists
In Last Month

Felix Frank Jachim, Youngstown ex-convict, was under sentence Friday to the Ohio penitentiary after changing his earlier plea of innocent to one of guilty to charges of attempting to burglarize the offices of the J. W. Eshelman and Sons Milling Co., East Mill Street. Jachim, who appeared before Judge Meeker Terwilliger, was sentenced to serve one to 15 years.

Jachim was shot through the leg the evening of September 9 when he was discovered in the milling company offices apparently trying to break open the safe. He leaped through a window when he learned of his discovery but was stopped by a bullet from the revolver of Patrolman Charles Mumaw. A confederate made his getaway.

The Youngstown man left a bit of tools when he fled the mill office.

His sentence is the second handed out to a safecracker by Judge Terwilliger in the last month. John F. Hyde of Chicago, receiving a one to 20 year term for breaking the safe at the Farm Bureau offices, East Main Street. The latter was discovered in the act of robbing the safe after he had broken it open. F. K. Blair, county agent who discovered him, spread the alarm and assisted Patrolman George Green in the capture.

Hyde claimed he was a former member of the British Royal Air Force and that he was in need of money to make his way to Toronto, Canada, to reenlist in the Canadian Air Corps.

GRANT COMPANY TO PAY BONUS TO ITS WORKERS

During the week before Christmas the W. T. Grant Company, which operates 497 department stores throughout the country, will share with its employees part of its profits for the last year. The total amount of bonus will be considerably larger than in 1938.

John E. Foster, personnel director, states that a total of approximately 14,000 full-time and part-time regular employees will participate in the bonus. Length of service will govern amounts received by individuals.

Eight employees of the Circleville store will participate in this bonus, according to C. E. Little, manager.

TRAPPER FINED $10

Problem of Funds For City Schools Unsolved

Representatives of the city, county, budget commission, Circleville Board of Education and Business Council failed to work out a solution Thursday night in the attempt to solve the shortage faced by the board of education for operating expenses in 1940.

Approximately 25 persons attended a meeting for general discussion of the problem held in the Common Pleas courtroom. Forrest Short, county auditor and a member of the budget commission, was chairman.

Circleville's tax rate has been set at $14.80 per $1,000 in property valuation. The board of education desired an additional half a mill levy in its share from taxes which would bring in about $4,500. Without this additional levy the board will be faced with the task of reducing expenses in 1940.

The city rate includes the following distribution: board of education, 3.85 mills for operating expenses and 1.4 mills for bonds and interest; a total of 5.25; Circleville city, 4.5 for operating expenses and 1.5 mills for bonds and interest, a total of six mills; Pickaway County, 2.9 mills for operating expenses and .4 of a mill for bonds, a total of 3.3 mills, and the township .2 for the general fund and .05 for roads, a total of .25.

In a previous meeting both Circleville Township and the city managed to add .15 of a mill more to the school operating expenses.

The township granted the school .05 of a mill from its road fund. Circleville granted .1 of a mill from its bond levy.

Thursday night the city and township contended they could grant no additional funds to the board of education.

Bob Hope is preparing the hundred best original gags of the 1938-1939 radio season. . . when the task is done, he expects to have the gags bound in pigskin and presented to the nine boys who write his Tuesday Night show.

Tommy Riggs is working on a difficult vocal trick which will enable him to sing duets with Betty Lou.

Star Theatre Songstress Frances Langford is teaching Emcee Ken Murray the LaConga so he won't have to sit it out when Frances and Jon give their South American party January 1.

Betty Lou Gerson, "Connie Tremaine" on Arnold Grimm's Daughter, is recording her own Christmas greetings in song as a surprise to radio cohorts who don't know she's been taking vocal lessons for almost a year.

STATE TO RANK HIGH IN AIDING AGED RESIDENTS

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Ohio will rank among the top three states in providing for its needy aged during 1939, Tom McCaw, Old age pension chief, declared today.

McCaw based his prediction on a study just completed by the division. From January through September, Ohio paid its recipients grants totaling $23,407,860, an amount surpassed only by two other states, California and New York, with approximately twice the population of Ohio, paid recipients but slightly more than the Buckeye state during the nine-month period. McCaw said the study showed that Ohio for the entire year probably would surpass payments of New York.

In the number of persons aided, only Illinois and California surpassed Ohio during the nine-month period. Illinois aided 135,721; California had 134,668 on the rolls and Ohio, 120,925.

Ohio ranked fourth in the average grant per recipient with payments of $22.69 per pensioner. California ranked first, Massachusetts, second and New York, third.

DOUG FAIRBANKS FUNERAL RITES TO BE SIMPLE

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Dec. 15—Funeral services without pomp or elaborate ceremony were to be conducted today for Douglas Fairbanks.

Only 150 men and women of Hollywood, those who were closest to the great actor during the quarter century he spent as a dashing motion picture hero, were scheduled to gather in the Wee Kirk o' The Heather at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale.

There was to be a simple eulogy spoken by the Rev. Neal Dodd, pastor of the Episcopal Church of St. Mary of the Angels, and music by Chico De Verdi, noted violinist, and other musicians who had played "set music" for the star.

A curtained room off the chancel of the little church was set aside for Fairbanks' widow, the former Lady Sylvia Ashley; Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., his son; Robert Fairbanks, brother of the actor, and other members of the family.

Pallbearers were Fairbanks' oldest friends in Hollywood, Charlie Chaplin, Sid Grauman, Joseph M. Schenck, Tom Geraghty, Clarence Erickson and Charles Lewis.

Mrs. Fairbanks, who has been under the care of a physician since her husband's unexpected death Tuesday from a heart attack, was able yesterday to choose the casket—a massive bronze coffin.

No formal cards of admission to the funeral services were issued, but attendance was restricted to those who worked with the actor or were included among his unusually extensive list of friends.

And then there's that young Canadian who has been shot at 1,000 times. War hero? Nope—just an ice hockey goalie.

Old Man Winter Halts Great Lakes Shipping After Record Season

Great Lakes freighter unloading coal at Duluth

Automobiles from Detroit being transported on the Great Lakes

DETROIT, Dec. 15—A boom-time Great Lakes shipping season which, at its height, put into commission every available steamer, has just drawn to a close.

The end of the season is not because the demand for those commodities carried in the lake freighters has lessened. It is because of weather conditions, and consequent dropping of insurance.

The 1939 season wiped out unemployment among Great Lakes mariners and, shippers believe, will have resulted in shipment of 70,000,000 tons up and down the inland waterways. The major cargoes are iron ore and grain downbound and coal upbound.

Shipowners who, in the past, have tried to beat the weather bogus and operate their freighters after Dec. 12 deadline have always met with one disaster or two. The sudden storms of early winter have played havoc with many a freighter in the long history of Great Lakes shipping.

Regular insurance rates expired Nov. 30. After that, and until Dec. 12, insurance is available, but at a higher rate. After Dec. 12, no company will take the risk of writing insurance on the Great Lakes ships.

Ships of the United States light-house service began their annual task of removing buoys and other aids to navigation a few days ago. Ships have made their last trips into Lake Superior, where most of the iron ore is shipped from Duluth, Minn., or Ashland, Wis. Grain from the northwest is also shipped from these two ports.

The 64 ore-carriers of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company fleet are among those that made their final Lake Superior trips before Nov. 30. The last of them, in fact, made its downward trip through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on Nov. 23, well ahead of the insurance deadline. But in other years, when the demand for ore has not been so great, the last downward voyage of these ships has usually been made about Nov. 1.

The demand for ore based on war orders is the major factor which has caused shipowners to prolong their carrying season this year. During the first 20 days of November, 7,594,980 tons of ore were moved out of Lake Superior. Surplus ore, to last through the

Christmas vacation, candies and cookies will be made to fill gift boxes. Ordinary unattractive boxes have been converted into artistic gift boxes. These boxes of candies and cookies will be given to the girls' mothers for Christmas gifts.

Pupils in junior and senior English have been studying informal essays of modern American writers, after reading original ones.

Several students deserve mention for outstanding work in this writing: "Tractor and I," Bob Strous; "On Reading a Newspaper," Charlotte Schaal; "The Kid Next Door," Virginia Kane. The annual PTA Christmas program will be held in the school auditorium on December 21 at 8 p. m. All rooms, which will be decorated for class programs on December 22, will be open for observation on this night. The high school chorus will present a cantata and Santa will make his usual visit. Christmas vacation is from December 22 to January 2.

CORN LOAN PLAN FOR '40 NEARLY LIKE LAST YEAR

J. G. Boggs Discloses Three Changes In Program Under AAA

INTEREST RATE DOWN
Procedure More Simplified;
Rate On Mixed Crop To Be 55 Cents

Pickaway County farmers will find only three changes in the new corn loan program for 1939-40 as compared with the loan which is made on 1938 corn.

John G. Boggs, chairman of the Pickaway AAA Committee, said changes are:

(1) Commodity Credit Corporation has reduced the interest rate from 4 to 3 percent on all commodity loans.

(2) The procedure for obtaining loans has been simplified so that a farmer may sign his note, chattel mortgage, and insurance certificate all in the same trip to the county office.

(3) The loan rate on mixed corn in the commercial area will be 55 cents a bushel instead of 57 cents.

The loan rate of 57 cents a bushel under the 1939 corn loan program is the same as the rate available in commercial corn counties in 1938, except for the change with regard to mixed corn. Pickaway County is in the commercial corn area. All farmers in the commercial area who planted within their 1939 corn acreage allotment are eligible for a loan under the new loan program.

Since a larger number of Pickaway County farmers are participating in the 1939 AAA Farm Program, more farmers are eligible for corn loans than in 1938. Approximately 35 Pickaway County farmers took loans on their 1938 corn.

Loans will not be made on any corn with a moisture content greater than 20½ percent. Loans will be available from December 1, 1939, to March 31, 1940, and will be due August 1, 1940.

Parables of the Kingdom

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Newman Campbell
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for December 17 is Matthew 13:1-53, the Golden Text being Isaiah 55:3, "Incline your ear, and come unto Me, hear, and your soul shall live.")

THE WORD "parable" means something cast alongside of something else, that is, a comparison. Jesus often talked in parables, telling stories that illustrated His message.

In this lesson Jesus "spoke many parables." They all illustrate the way in which the message Jesus brought work in the world to those who accept it and follow His teachings.

First in our lesson He told the story of the man who went forth to sow. Some of his seed fell by the roadside and birds quickly gobbled it up. This means, of course, that no matter how eloquent the preacher and how marvelous and helpful his message, there are some who do not respond or understand.

Some of the seed fell on rocky ground where it sprang up in the soil that covered the stones, but was quickly withered when the sun came out brightly because it had no roots to give it moisture. These are the people who listen to the message, but it does not sink into their consciousness and soon passed out of mind. Some fell among thorns, and were smothered by them, meaning that some who heard let worldly things crowd out the Good Word.

Some Heard and Believed
But some there were who heard and believed and tried to follow the teachings, and these were the seeds that fell into good earth and grew and ripened and were harvested.

The Kingdom of Heaven Jesus likened to a grain of mustard seed, which is the tiniest seed known in Palestine. Mustard sometimes grows to the height of 15 feet in Palestine and that parable shows how the teachings of Jesus grow from a small beginning to a great height, filling one's life.

The Lord said the Kingdom of Heaven also is like leaven, or yeast, as we say, which a woman puts into a mixture of meal and in time it makes the whole mass light. You will know what He meant if you have ever seen a woman make bread or raised dough of any kind. It is also like a treasure which has been hidden in a field. A man finds it and then tells all he has and buys the field, because this treasure is worth more than everything else a man might own.

And finally, He compared the message to a pearl of great price, the perfect pearl, which the pearl merchant was seeking, and when he found it, he sold all his other wares and bought this perfect one.

Sends Multitude Away
After telling these parables, Jesus sent the multitude away and went into the house. As His disciples gathered around Him they asked to have the parables He had been telling explained. So He told them other stories, asking them if they understood what He had been saying and they said they had. Whereupon Jesus "departed thence."

"The Christian religion surely is a 'pearl of great price,' and we should, indeed, sell all we have and take it and live it."

"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law." It is written in Galatians 6:22, 23, and it goes on, in verse 25 and 26: "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another."

If one lives the real Christlike life one lives as these last quoted lines indicate. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he reap."

MILLIONS TO BE USED TO GUARD U. S. FROM RAID

Program Is Being Drafted To Make Nation's Shores Invulnerable From Air TO BUY AIRCRAFT GUNS Committee Days Important Phase Of Military Worked Neglected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Plans for a $100,000,000 program to make the United States invulnerable to air attack are being drafted by army officials, it was learned today.

This sum would be spent to add thousands of anti-aircraft guns to the national defense establishment. Both fixed and mobile armaments are envisaged in the air defense plan.

Each strategic center of the nation would be equipped with modern air defense weapons of a sufficient number to lend them material assistance in beating off invaders from the sky.

An authoritative source disclosed that the military forces are woefully inadequate in this defense category. It was revealed that the army currently has less than 600 modern type anti-aircraft guns that can be utilized for defending the United States against a bombing attack.

900 Defend London

A striking illustration of the inadequacy of anti-aircraft defenses is furnished by the fact that England has almost 900 anti-aircraft guns defending London alone.

Disclosure of the projected expansion program for anti-aircraft defenses followed a few hours after a congressional committee reported that this important phase of American military preparations is being neglected.

The congressional group, headed by Senator Thomas (D) Oklahoma, and composed of members of the house and senate military affairs and appropriations committees, conducted an extensive inspection tour of various army facilities. Speaking for the group, Thomas, in a formal statement, asserted that "special and immediate attention should be given to defense measures against possible enemy air attack."

"To that end," he continued, "the best possible anti-aircraft gun, rifle, and weapons generally should be developed and placed in the hands of specially trained units to combat possible attack by enemy planes."

War department officials concurred in the opinion of the committee. They indicated that the blame for inadequate anti-aircraft facilities is largely on the shoulders of congress because of its failure to appropriate sufficient funds for this equipment.

Thomas reported that his committee probably will recommend funds to carry out the war department's anti-aircraft defense objectives. The group was satisfied with the progress being made in the development and manufacture of army airplanes. It noted, however, that development of infantry, field artillery, cavalry, coast artillery and signal corps units are lagging behind the aviation units.

Another recommendation of the committee will call for modernization of artillery field armaments and a speedup in the production of semi-automatic rifles.

EX-GOVERNOR OF N. HOLLAND MAY NEBRASKA RUNS ISSUE BOND TO FOR CONGRESS BUILD PROJECT

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 15.—Charles W. Bryan, 72-year-old brother of the late William Jennings Bryan, today was preparing for the "one more good fight" he says still is in him.

Bryan's fight, according to his announcement, will be to win nomination for congress in the 1940 Democratic primary. Bryan, the first man to serve three times as governor of Nebraska, declared something might happen to make him change his mind before the time arrives for him to file for the nomination, but that his "present intention" was to make the race.

Bryan was elected governor in 1922, 1930 and 1932. In the 1934 primary he was beaten by U. S. Senator E. R. Burke, and in 1938 he tried unsuccessfully to run as an independent candidate for governor. He served two terms as mayor of Lincoln and was the Democratic vice presidential candidate in 1924.

BROWDER TALKS AMID BOOS AND JEERS AT M. I. T.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 15.—Calm returned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology campus today following a speech made yesterday by Earl R. Browder, Communist leader, under the handicaps of stench bombs, boos and jeers, sounding of fire gongs and the smashing of a plate glass window in one of the auditorium doors.

Browder declared the Soviet attack on Finland was necessary to insure the safety of Leningrad.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Earl R. Browder, Communist party leader, will talk to a politics class at Columbia University but the date

About 30 residents of New Holland, meeting Thursday night for a discussion of a proposed waterworks system for the village, decided to investigate the possibility of issuing $37,000 worth of bonds and have the project submitted to WPA.

The New Holland folk met in the office of Mayor C. V. Stebelson for a general discussion of the project.

Mert Tootle, a resident of the village who becomes a councilman January 1, said the next step in the program will be to determine if there is a buyer for the bonds. If the village finds a market for the bonds, he explained, a bond issue will be submitted to voters. The estimated cost on the waterworks system is $104,000.

An application was made a year ago for a waterworks project under the Public Works Administration program. PWA funds became exhausted at about the same time and no new appropriation has been made since that time.

Those attending the meeting Thursday night favored proceeding with the waterworks program.

TO SAFETY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIALS: Appointment of Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell as a new city traffic official meets with unanimous approval, I am certain. Mr. Fissell, who has made the study of crime and its detection his life's work, should be a most valuable addition to the city department. He is well-trained, efficient, fearless and fair. His work during the last nine or 10 years in the sheriff's office has been outstanding and he has had much to do with making the Pickaway County sheriff's office one of the most efficient in Ohio. His appointment means that Circleville's traffic situation will be eased. At the present time with no officer on duty during the day who has time to check traffic, motorists, local and out-of-town, speed through the heavily-populated and business districts as though they were on the range; they ignore traffic lights and pedestrians. With a capable traffic officer going on duty about the middle of January, it is certain that the condition will be improved.

TO TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS

FRIENDS: I was very pleased to learn that a group of you had met with county officials to work out arrangements for purchasing a fire truck to be used in fighting rural flames and to assist on major city runs. The movement toward purchase of the truck was started last summer immediately after the Circleville "antiquated" pumper was disabled. It has taken several months for steps leading up to the purchase to reach a head, but now the order has been placed, and all necessary arrangements have been completed for moving the truck into Circleville where it will be manned and housed. Whether a couple of other townships are to be included in the cooperative program is not yet certain, but it is likely that they will come in. The need for a fire truck which would be available for rural runs has been proved time after time, and you are to be congratulated for completing your program leading up to the actual purchase.

TO C. OF C., ROTARIANS

CIVIC CLUBS: Both of your organizations showed your true civic spirit this week when you stepped in to help boost the movement being pushed to provide new uniforms for the High School band. There isn't any question that an organization as good as ours should be better equipped than the present band is. The fact that your organizations are behind the project means that it is certain to be successful.

TO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

DIRECTORS: The suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce that the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the Pumpkin Show, employ the Circleville High School Band for the entirety of the celebration and pay it accordingly deserves serious consideration by you directors. Prof. C. F. Zaenglein and members of the High School Band have certainly served the Pumpkin Show organization in a splendid manner. In addition, the band and its director have always been ready and willing to do their part in any civic celebration, rain or shine. The band should be given first consideration for the celebration. Now the organization is in need of new uniforms and various activities are being sponsored to provide funds for these uniforms. Every resident should lend support to this program.

TO KIWANIANS

MEMBERS: Your club certainly deserves congratulations on its plans for the Christmas party next Monday for children from needy families. To entertain 35 youngsters at dinner, give them treats and each one a sweater involves considerable expenses. Following the party the youngsters will be the guests of the Grand Theatre. Other Circleville civic organizations should follow the steps taken by Kiwanians to make the lives of underprivileged children brighter and help them become good citizens.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CITY OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: When will Circleville have some more traffic lights? For several years efforts have been made to obtain traffic lights for some of the dangerous intersections in the city. Two lights were obtained for intersections at the high school building for the protection of children. That seemed to end the interest of city officials in making Circleville safer for motorists and pedestrians. Three more lights are needed. There should be lights at Pickaway and Franklin, Pickaway and Main and Pickaway and Watt Streets.

TO PAUL BOWERS

SPEAKER: Congratulations on your winning the Pickaway County Prince of Peace contest held last Sunday night in First United Brethren Church. Circleville and Pickaway County folk wish you good luck in the district event in January.

TO CIRCLEVILLE RESIDENTS

FOLK: This year, as in former years, the Circleville Benevolent Association will provide many baskets for Circleville's needy families for Christmas. Persons who have anything to contribute toward the Christmas baskets are asked to leave their donations at the City Cottage before Friday morning, December 22.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

OUR STATE department voices considerable strictly unofficial surprise to note that Japan's press expresses a good bit of sympathy with Finland, in connection with the present Russo-Finnish situation. The Tokio government hasn't said anything, but Nippon's newspapers and news associations are almost outright pro-Finnish.

Of course the Japanese thought now on comparatively friendly terms with Moscow, for years have been either passively hostile toward the Russians or, part of the time, at open war with them. It's a tradition which may have something to do with their press attitude at the present juncture. Still, Tokio certainly has been generally classified of late as a totalitarian outfit—as not at all likely to have a kindly feeling toward the freedom-loving Finns.

For enlightenment I consulted my friend, Masuo Kato, Washington correspondent of Japan's premier press agency, Domei.

"The explanation," said Correspondent Kato, "is that Nippon is thoroughly democratic. Naturally we're sorry to see an unfortunate little democracy overrun by a big despotism."

SEMI-BELIEVABLE

If I never had been in Japan I probably wouldn't have believed this.

But I've sojourned there twice. And on both occasions it seemed to me to be a democratic country. These visits occurred during peace intervals, to be sure. Civil authority prevailed and my observation was that it was as democratic as in the United States—possibly more so.

Right here, when a war's on, individual rights are somewhat encroached on by our militarists. In Japan militarism's rule is enormously exaggerated.

In peace time, though, the Japanese government's as approachable as the personnel of any American department store. All the visitor needs is to present some reasonable excuse for an interview and he gets it, and is sociably listened to.

Perhaps the ground was broken for me a trifle. The American news agency I represented was affiliated with the Nippon Dempo Tsusin Sha. Nippon means Japan. Dempo means company. Great Japanese Telegraph company!

N. D. T. S. Director Mitzunaga bossed this setup and made dates for me. N. D. T. S. Foreign Editor Ryonosuke Saita attended to them. I saw any mogul I wanted to, and he was more communicative than any official I ever met in Washington.

Correspondent Kato tells me that Prince Saonji is the greatest democrat in history. I got to him as easily as I could see a postoffice clerk.

ESPIONAGE?

Stories are told now about foreigners who are pinched for taking photographs of ordinary scenes on streets in Tokio.

I expect it's true; the military gang is on the job.

I sailed from Yokohama to Nagasaki, through the inland sea, shooting pictures in every direction. Nobody found any fault with it.

From war-torn China I carried a 45-caliber automatic pistol into Japan. I declared it. It was a new model weapon then, and the Japanese examined it closely for scientific purposes. The police did. But they passed it without dispute, so far as I was concerned.

Pretty liberal, from the Japanese standpoint.

The Japs know, of course, that it didn't mean anything. It doesn't now, either.

All the same, the bulk of the Japanese like to have it understood that they're democratic. Maybe their militarism isn't that, but THEY are.

As, see Prince Saonji.

I don't know about the mikado. He's a figment, implying nothing in particular—not as much as the king of England.

But Japan, says Correspondent Kato, is sure-enough democratic.

He may speak for some genuine basic democracy.

If there's some of it in the Far East, it's interesting.

Strategy in War on Tuberculosis

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

MANY changes have occurred in the handling of tuberculosis in recent years. In my own lifetime, which covers a professional experience of about 30 years, the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis have been revolutionized. The procedure used to be to depend on a history, examination of the patient with a stethoscope and an examination of the sputum. We now know that a great many cases would be missed if this procedure were adhered to.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

History.—If a patient has symptoms of tuberculosis, including fatigue, cough, expectoration, night sweats and fever, it is usually an advanced case. Nowadays, therefore, we try to get them before symptoms occur.

True Also of Sputum. The same is true of sputum. If we wait until tubercle bacilli are found in the sputum, we wait too long. The use of percussion and the stethoscope are still valuable procedures to check findings, but few modern physicians are accurate enough in their use or well enough trained to obtain good results. It is possible nowadays, with modern x-ray technique, to take a group of people and pass them rapidly through the hands of the x-ray man and obtain nearly 100 per cent correct diagnoses. In other words, if the x-ray is negative, there is a very good chance that no tuberculosis exists. On the other hand, it picks up changes in the lung in the very early stages of tuberculosis, allowing treatment to be carried out early.

The campaign against tuberculosis has the following features at different ages:

Pre-school age.—Here the important thing is to avoid contacts. Any person in a household, no matter what the age, who has a chronic cough, is suspect. Many people carry an active tuberculosis up to the age of 60 or 70, infecting their children and grandchildren. This is an unpleasant subject to discuss, but, according to our modern methods, it is a disagreeable necessity to face the facts.

Grade school age.—All pupils should be examined with the tuberculin test and the suspicious ones should have their chests x-rayed.

Age from 12 to 18.—Reinfection occurs frequently at this age and school children should be re-examined carefully. It is one of the most dangerous ages for development of tuberculosis.

College age (20 to 30).—The home circle and the dangers have been left behind, but the possibilities of new contacts arise. Tuberculin tests and the x-ray pictures should be made routinely on college students.

Age 30 to 50.—Tuberculin test is of little value at this age, but the x-ray is still a valuable diagnostician.

The improvement in our results by this sort of a plan makes us feel that our efforts are having positive value and that before long we can actually banish tuberculosis from the face of the earth.

Fabienné gave him a glance of simulated hauteur and said, "Dr. Mallory, when I ask your professional advice—" Then she laughed. "Will you ever forgive me for that, Bill? I was beastly, ill-bred and—"

"Skip it," he said, standing over her with a broad grin. "But if you want any more names to call yourself I'll supply a few."

Ellen got up and went into the bedroom.

Fabienné said loudly, "I'm awfully tired, and I have a very good book. I think I'll go to bed. Good night, Bill. See you in church." She held out her hand.

"I'm still the physician in attendance," he reminded her. "And I have not discharged your case."

"Be a lamb and discharge it now," she told him. "I promise to sleep fourteen hours a day, take my medicine and eat all the horrible, fattening things you advise. When you see me at the wedding, you'll see a great improvement."

She hoped that Ellen heard her, that Ellen would know she didn't intend to see Bill again until the wedding.

Ellen didn't hear her for the simple reason that Ellen was not interested in listening to what Bill and Fabienné had to say to each other. If only things were going as she hoped they would! Bill and Fabienné were her two favorite persons and she hoped that some day—

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE
NEITHER BILL nor Ellen said anything then, and so it wasn't until after Dick left, after inviting them to his wedding, that she realized how Ellen might take her casual announcement that "of course" she would be going back to live with her mother.

"It isn't that I don't love it here, Ellen," she said with a wistful attempt to make the other girl understand, "because I do. But . . . but mother has a big place and plenty of servants—" She realized that that was a mad way to say it, and finished desperately. "I'm still pretty weak in the knees and I need a lot of taking care of. I'm only a burden around here these days."

"You are not!" Ellen denied. "However much I shall miss you, I understand. With the wedding coming off and all that, it is natural for you to want to be with your mother and do all you can to help with the preparations."

Fabienné gave her a grateful glance. Dear Ellen; trust her to make it easy.

"I'm not sure I approve of it at all," Bill said calmly. "You're a lot better off here where we can keep an eye on you. It's going to be some time before you have your strength back. A round of parties isn't going to be the convalescence I recommend at all."

Fabienné gave him a glance of simulated hauteur and said, "Dr. Mallory, when I ask your professional advice—" Then she laughed. "Will you ever forgive me for that, Bill? I was beastly, ill-bred and—"

"Skip it," he said, standing over her with a broad grin. "But if you want any more names to call yourself I'll supply a few."

Ellen got up and went into the bedroom.

Fabienné said loudly, "I'm awfully tired, and I have a very good book. I think I'll go to bed. Good night, Bill. See you in church." She held out her hand.

"I'm still the physician in attendance," he reminded her. "And I have not discharged your case."

"Be a lamb and discharge it now," she told him. "I promise to sleep fourteen hours a day, take my medicine and eat all the horrible, fattening things you advise. When you see me at the wedding, you'll see a great improvement."

She hoped that Ellen heard her, that Ellen would know she didn't intend to see Bill again until the wedding.

Ellen didn't hear her for the simple reason that Ellen was not interested in listening to what Bill and Fabienné had to say to each other. If only things were going as she hoped they would! Bill and Fabienné were her two favorite persons and she hoped that some day—sons and she hoped that some day—

Fabienné came to her door. "Darling, don't feel that my going to mother's is anything more than—a change—and what you said."

"I don't," Ellen said, smiling reassuringly. "I think a change will be good for you. I've been cooped up here much—long. But I'd like you to know that I want you back whenever you wish to come—IF EVER you wish to."

Fabienné did something she had never done before. She crossed the room and put her arms around Ellen, holding her close for a moment. Then with a little embarrassed laugh, she let her go, saying, "Ellen, there isn't anything I wouldn't do for you. And not one thing that would ever hurt you!"

Surprised by the other girl's intensity, Ellen said, "I know that, Fab. Now, off to bed with you. You're still under doctor's orders."

From her own bedroom Fabienné called, "Darling, will you please bring home the copies of the first play we're to do? Bill said the parts had been copied. I'm awfully anxious to get to work on them."

"I'll try to remember," Ellen said, sighing. Bill had told her that Fabienné would not be able to go back to work for many weeks. "Those flu germs on top of too much work have left her far from well," Bill said. "The work at the settlement house is entirely too hard for her. She burns up all her energy and gives too much of herself."

She might as well tell her, not let her go on thinking that she must get back to work.

Reluctantly, Ellen went into Fabienné's bedroom and sat on the side of the bed. She said, "Listen, soldier, I'm going to exercise some of my authority. I'm not going to let you come back to work for a long time."

Fabienné's eyes widened. "I want you and I need you. But if you start a project and break down in the middle of it, where will we be?"

"But I won't!" Fabienné protested. "Fab, you're a grand worker, as I've said before, but I won't go against Bill's orders. If you want to confine your activities to organizing the theater group and directing it—and that will mean more than two or three hours' work at a time for not more than three times a week—come back when you are able. But I will not consider assigning you to anything else."

Fabienné was thinking of the long, lazy days ahead of her, so unlike those busy, busy days she had spent at the school she had come to love. The prospect was not inviting. And now, more than ever, she needed work to fill up her time, to keep her from dreaming and longing and wanting someone she couldn't have. But she couldn't tell that to Ellen, so she nodded. "Okay, chief," she said. "But I can do the theater stuff!"

"Certainly you can. I'll bring home the play tomorrow."

After Ellen left, a small, horrible suspicion came to Fabienné's mind—was Ellen getting rid of her? She banished it at once. Ellen Chapman was incapable of anything like that.

Resolutely she turned her thoughts to the wedding.

Trust Gertrude to outdo herself in giving a wedding to her wealthy daughter-in-law-to-be.

Fabienné and Dick—with Brenda, who was a nice enough little doll, madly in love with Dick—met Gertrude at the dock.

"Darling!" Gertrude said, kissing her daughter. "You look frightfully peaked after your illness. I meant to write you about it, but Dick's news was so unexpected and so exciting. I made all the plans on the boat. We will have a little family conference as soon as I'm through customs."

Fabienné smiled wryly at her mother's dismissal of her illness. Dick's wedding was, after all, much more important than her own "peakedness."

Brenda and Dick were married at St. Thomas' church in the presence of some five hundred guests. The reception was held at Gertrude's apartment.

Society reporters described the scene, using superlatives to encompass banks of dogwood blossoms, cases of champagne, gowns from Paris and a king's ransom in jewels and furs. "The lovely Fabienné Seymour, post-debutante, and sister of the bridegroom who has deserted the social arena for settlement work, was one of the bridesmaids and it was hinted that her engagement to Nicholas Bartlett may shortly be expected," one of the gossip writers informed his public.

The information must have come from Gertrude, for Fabienné, turning in the reception line to greet each newcomer to the reception, found herself face to face with Bill Mallory.

"Come by to see what I'm in for some day," he said, grinning at her. "So glad you did," she said evenly, with tears in her throat because she couldn't share that "some day" with him. "You haven't met mother. This is Dr. Mallory, mother."

Bill passed down the line and then Nicky was bringing Ellen up. But when she got there, Fabienné had fled to her room to throw herself face downward on her bed.

The door opened softly and Ellen came in.

Stylish Tradition

WINTER'S BRIDE may take her vows in wool, cut as beautifully as silk, but ten to one she'll have at least one negligee of satin in her trousseau. It's traditional and it's flattering, and not as much of a luxury as in mother's day. The model shown, for instance, is about what any girl would consider paying for the most important robe in her life. It comes in pink and blue, with a back panel and deep wrap in front. Hand-run Alencon lace is generously used as accent for the sheen of the satin. Obviously such a negligee is easily matched in nightgowns and satin slippers.

BRITISH DEMAND SHIP BE FORCED TO LEAVE PORT

men died aboard the Graf Spee during the battle, but the arrival of 36 hearses indicated that the initial reports were erroneous. Otto Langmann, German minister to Uruguay, declined an offer of burial space in the British cemetery, choosing interment in the Protestant northern cemetery of Montevideo.

Earlier reports that the government had decided to permit the vessel to remain in Montevideo Harbor to carry out repairs were denied by authoritative quarters, where it was stated the government has not yet made up its mind on the question.

It was expected that government ministers would renew their consultations on this point at midday, and informed circles indicated that everything pointed to the possibility that British insistence that the Graf Spee either be interned or forced to depart would prevail.

The question must be settled today, it was stated, but no one, not even the highest officials of the government know what the final decision will be.

This morning the most reliable information was that when Uruguayan Foreign Minister Alberto Guani retired at 3 a. m., there was still no definite decision.

The British argued that the German ship should be interned or permitted to remain for the usual 24 hours in port, with one 24-hour extension—a total of 48 hours which would expire at midnight tonight.

Nazi Claim Disputed

German claims that the Graf Spee is unable to sail were countered by the British, who said that a vessel able to sail into a port at full speed, as did the Admiral Graf Spee, usually is able to sail out again.

Meanwhile, with appropriate ceremonies, funeral services were held early this morning for the 38 members of the German pocket battle ship's crew who were killed during the running battle at sea.

Owing to increasing anti-Nazi sentiment in Montevideo, police took special precautions to prevent possible disturbances during the funeral ceremonies. Authorities were determined to prevent a repetition of yesterday's dockside rioting.

If the government decides that the Graf Spee must leave or be interned, and if the German officers decide to depart, it appeared almost certain that another naval battle will occur outside Montevideo Harbor.

Two of the British cruisers which took part in the sea battle, the Ajax and Achilles, were waiting some 30 miles outside the harbor. It was reported that they were being joined by the 31,000-ton battleship Barham, the powerful battle cruiser Renown and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal.

Two at Capetown (London reports yesterday stated the Renown and Ark Royal recently visited Capetown, which would place them within fairly close sailing distance to Montevideo.)

The third British vessel which took part in the battle, the cruiser Exeter, was seriously damaged. It sent a wireless message to Argentine authorities requesting permission to enter the port of Bahia Blanca for the purpose of disembarking 100 seriously wounded members of its crew.

(At Buenos Aires, the newspaper El Sol reported the arrival at Bahia Blanca of a seaplane from the Exeter, carrying a gravely wounded British officer and the bodies of two others who died during the flight.)

Sixty-one British officers and seamen were brought ashore from the Admiral Graf Spee and conducted to the British consulate, where the entire staff began taking individual sworn depositions from each of them as to their experiences. They were from British ships sunk by the Graf Spee during recent weeks.

Among the released British prisoners were the captains of the seamen Newton Beech, Streangall, Trevanion, Doric Star and Huntsman and the first officer of the Africa Shell.

The Africa Shell officer, Patrick Dobe, was the sole survivor of the sinking of that vessel, in which nearly 200 persons were reported to have perished.

Among the seamen were crew members of the steamers Ashlea and Traivoa, which also went down with nearly all hands.

Fair Treatment Reported The Englishmen were closely confined below the Graf Spee's decks throughout the naval battle and all during the fight had no clear idea of what was happening. They said that they were treated well by the Germans, and that while food aboard the Graf Spee was rationed at a rock-bottom basis, they were no worse off in this respect than the Graf Spee's own crew.

The rioting at the dockside occurred late yesterday when a crowd of more than 20,000 gath-

The mass manifestation of anti-Nazi sentiment reached its highest point when one of the German warship's officers, with his eyes and arms bandaged, was led down the gangway.

Instead of inspiring sympathy, the sight of the wounded man seemed to infuriate the crowd. At this juncture the police charged and cleared the entire port zone of spectators.

which lies on one of Finland's most important overland routes to Norway.

Further South, in Finland's middle or "wasp waist" sector, it appeared that the Finns had definitely halted the Russian drive in the Sall-Kamijarvi region, thereby spiking a Soviet attempt to cut Finland in half.

Middle Drive Feared Military authorities in Helsinki had considered the Russian drive across middle Finland even more dangerous than the Red penetration in the Far North.

Other advices said the Finns also sent a column of troops on the Central Front into Russian on a counter-invasion push against the Leningrad - Murmansk railway which parallels the frontier. This was done with the apparent object of cutting Russian communications with the armies in the Arctic.

In the North, Salmijarvi was in flames when the Russian forces reached it after carrying through their offensive with tremendous force from both the North and East with troops from Murmansk and others which landed at Linahamari. Many mechanized units participated in this drive.

Resistance Stiffens After the Russians reached Salmijarvi, however, Finnish resistance appeared to stiffen, and from the Norwegian side of the border heavy artillery and machine gun fire was heard, according to advices from Copenhagen.

Two Russian battalions took up defense positions at Kuolantunturi, just north of Salmijarvi, and groups of Russian tanks reached a point on the northern highway just opposite the Norwegian town of Svanvik. Several of the Soviet tanks were destroyed.

MRS. MYLES BEELER HAS POETRY IN MAGAZINE

Mrs. Myles Beeler of Wooster, the former Gladys Wentworth of Circleville, has a poem entitled "A Star Spangled Lullaby" in the new issue of the Buckeye, the magazine published by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Beeler is a daughter of Mrs. Grace D. Wentworth of West Union Street. She is president of the Juniors Women's Club of Wooster. Mrs. Beeler attended Wooster College.

The poem follows:

A Star Spangled Lullaby Gladys Wentworth Beeler
Little child, at close of day,
Tuck your pretty smile away,
Hide the stars within your eyes
From the stars up in the skies.

Rest your wee arms 'round me,
dear,
And plant a kiss close by my ear.
Then snuggle down and go to sleep
While God above his watch will keep.

Thank God that you may safely rest,
Those are but stars there in the west.
No bombing planes leaps 'cross the sky
To Make my wee soft baby die.

Dutch Mine Their Vulnerable Harbors

GERMANS SHOOT DOWN 10 PLANES

ing to a London announcement four German and three British planes were shot down.

The planes that returned reported they sighted a German naval fleet consisting of a battleship, a cruiser and a number of destroyers and submarines steaming to the South.

Some quarters in London attempted to link these vessels with heavy gunfire which was heard off the southwest Norwegian coast near the scene of the famous World War battle of Jutland. But at present, however, there was nothing to substantiate the theory that there may have been a major naval engagement in that area during the last few days.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Heavy German patrol activity broke out again on the Western Front today, particularly in the area between the Vosges Mountains and the Blies River.

Near the Blies, two German reconnaissance patrols penetrated the advanced French lines but were driven off.

Later a French two-section patrol encountered a similar German group in no man's land and a hot fight developed in a Vosges Mountain forest. There were some casualties on both sides.

Movements Noted A war ministry spokesman, meanwhile, confirmed reports that "some movements" of German troops have been noted by the French during the last few days.

Reports received in Paris indicated that the recent German patrol activities have become increasingly daring.

BILLY MYERS DISPLEASED WITH REDLEG CONTRACT

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15.—Declaring that a $1,500 raise was not enough, Billy Myers, Cincinnati Red shortstop, today returned his 1940 contract unsigned.

"Not interested," was the curt reply Myers was reported to have attached to the document when he received it at his home in Fairview, Pa.

General Manager Warren C. Giles expressed surprise when he learned Myers was dissatisfied with the pay boost.

"Billy is a good shortstop and did a swell job for us last season," Giles said. "But I don't believe he is a good enough ball player to go hog wild over what he believes he is worth."

BRICKER SPEAKS TO GOTHAMITES

thority to distribute WPA funds had created a situation in Ohio that it determined 'critical.'

"These matters, distressing as they are, must be worked out as between the states and the nation in a cooperative way. We are all sympathetic with the needs of the people. No public official wants anyone to be hungry, cold or in need of shelter, but it is a mighty dangerous thing for any government authority to use the necessities of people and their distress for political preferment or advantage."

The governor criticized federal officials for withholding from Ohio $1,300,000 in old age pension money because of a controversy between the social security board and former Democratic Gov. Martin L. Davey. He merely referred to Davey as "my predecessor."

"In the term of my predecessor the federal government contended that his administration was using the old age pension department for political purposes," Bricker stated. "A primary campaign was on in our state and the candidate supported by the national administration was a national committeeman from Ohio, attempting to defeat the then governor of Ohio."

PRIME MINISTER GOES TO FRONT TO VIEW TROOPS

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain arrived in France today and will spend several days inspecting the British Expeditionary Force.

Chamberlain's first visit to the battle lines follows a similar tour by King George VI which carried the British monarch to virtually every point in the British lines.

Since the king's visit, however, British troops have taken over a section of the French front lines and London circles today were speculating as to whether Chamberlain would visit those advanced posts.

TWO COUNTRIES PAY DEBTS, BUT OTHERS DEFAULT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Today is "World War debt payment day." Two tiny countries that didn't even exist when the first World War started will be the only payers. They will pay $244,521. This would leave 15 other European nations owing Uncle Sam exactly $14,604,916.104.56.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, acting as receiving teller, will have a short day's work.

At 11 a. m., Hjalmer Procope, minister from Finland, which was the Duchy of Russia prior to the 1914 war, handed over 234,693, thus maintaining his nation's record of never having missed a principal and interest payment when due.

Hungary, part of the Austro-Hungarian empire until the war, already has laid down a check for $9,828.

From the others, led by Britain owing $5,574,430,793; France, $4,200,332,646, and Italy, $2,025,525,996, the usual notes "regretting" inability to pay, will be received. Lithuania and Yugoslavia, in fact, has already "regretted."

If Morgenthau could translate these missives into cash, he could have balanced the budget for the last five years.

MARTIN SENDS HOLIDAY SHADOW BOX EASTWARD

The shadow box, one of the finest ever made by the display service, shows the Christ Child, Holy Mother, shepherds and the manger.

How the order was received from Pennsylvania was a surprise to Mr. Martin. He received a telegram asking him to quote a price for the box desired. The order was placed immediately after the price was given.

RED AND BLACK SQUAD TRAVELS TO CHILLICOTHE

Walters And Davis III, But May Participate In Friday Contest

A battling Circleville basketball team, that was so ashamed of itself after losing by a lopsided score to Greenfield that it defeated a highly-favored Lancaster five, travels to Chillicothe Friday evening to take on Coach Earl Young's usually strong team. The game will be the first for the Ross Countians and the third for the Red and Black.

The illness bugaboo bobbed up Friday when Paul Walters, and Whitey Davis, forward, were under the weather. Neither practiced Thursday evening, but both hoped to be ready for Friday's game. Frank Geib, reserve team guard, is definitely out tonight because of illness. Several other members of the squad are suffering from colds, but all are expected to see action.

Starting Five Same

Coach Roy Black will stick with his starting five of Davis and Smith at forwards, Walters at center and Staley and Bowsler at the defensive spots. If Walters is not able to go the full route Staley will probably move into the center spot with Clark Martin going to guard. Callihan would replace Davis.

The Chillicothe team has not yet been tested by competition, but Young expects his three tall boys, Stout, Brooks and Hedgepath, to carry the load until his green forwards are ready for the fast pace. The Chillicotheans will have a decided height advantage over the Red and Black.

The reserve tilt is booked for 7 o'clock and the varsity game an hour later. Ralph Crook and E. J. Wilson, Lancaster athletic director and football coach, respectively, will officiate.

A full slate of contests is booked for the county courts Friday evening with action to take place in five centers. The feature contest will probably take place at New Holland where Ashville's unbeaten boys are scheduled to provide opposition.

Williamsport is host to Jackson, Washington goes to Walnut, Salt-creek is Pickaway's guest and Scioto goes over to Darby, the girls' game being watched in this one.

Several schools are revising their schedules during the next week because of holidays vacations, the games scheduled including Williamsport at Perry, Walnut at Jackson, New Holland at Washington, Pickaway at Ashville and Scioto at Monroe.

SKELETON IN PARLOR
DALLAS, Tex.—The home of S. B. Helyer of Dallas is crowded—not only with visitors but also with a collection of the bones of a prehistoric animal. Helyer has taken in the remains of huge beast discovered in Pecos County near the New Mexico border. The ribs are the size of barn rafters, the four-foot tusks as big around as fence posts and the leg bones as large as a tree trunk. The jaws are three feet across at the base and about four feet long.

CAR BEATS BLIND
REHOBOTH BEACH, Cal.—Bagging wild geese from an automobile in one section of Rehoboth is proving more profitable than working from a blind. Several hunters found that the birds were feeding on a farm jutting out into the bay. They parked alongside the road, remained seated in their cars and brought down the wild fowl. Gunners hidden in blinds along the shore finished the day empty-handed.

Wonders To Stage Cage Show Monday At C.A.C.

A great basketball show is expected at the Circleville Athletic Club gymnasium Monday evening when the Waterloo Wonders invade the court to take on the Athletic Club team. A preliminary will be played, but as yet both principals have not been signed.

The Wonders, who came out of the Lawrence County hills a few years ago to really make the cage game interesting for the fans who pay hard cash to watch it, retain all their earlier passing and shooting features and, in addition, have added much experience to their repertoire.

Headed by the great Orlyn and Wyman Roberts, Curtis McMahon and Russell Drummond, the Wonders have added Wilmer (Bill) Hosket, former Dayton Stivers and Ohio State star, to the roster. Hosket plays center, remaining at that post until the tipoff then moves back to a guard spot where he remains, watching the original Wonders go through their antics.

Johnny Heiskell, City League president, said that the Athletic Club team would probably include Jerry Miller and Snapper Ankrom at forwards, Wimp Walden at center and Art Kaiser and Carl Purcell at guards. Others on the C. A. C. squad will be John Jenkins, Ed Reichelderfer and Creighton Anderson.

How good would our line be if he wasn't back there doing his share as a backer-up? How good would the runners be without Fred clearing the way?"

All that is necessary is to ask enemy coaches why they have little love on the gridiron for this Vanzo person.

As a Northwestern freshman Vanzo carried the ball with vim. Came his sophomore year and Fred's ambition's as a ball-carrier suffered a severe blow. His size, agility and speed fitted him ideally for the post of blocking back. And there he has remained, through three years of collegiate football and since 1938 in the pro ranks.

In the highly specialized and smoothly-functioning professional ranks a man of Vanzo's peculiar ability is of enormous value. As Lions' Coach Gus Henderson puts it:

"Without a doubt he is the best inside back in the pro league. We have been talking of this team as a unit. The backs work because the line is good and the line is good because they get help from the line-backers."

"Fred, more than any one represents that unity. He is as hard a worker as there is on the field."

JERSEY SEEKING HOSTAK AND GARCIA RING BOUT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—The National Boxing Association today announced an offer had been received from Chairman Abe J. Greene, of the New Jersey Boxing Commission, to stage an Al Hostak-Ceferino Garcia middleweight title contest in the Jersey City armory.

Hostak has declined to meet Garcia in New York or California, while Garcia declined the bout in Seattle. Garcia is recognized as champion by the New York and California commissions. Hostak is the NBA's champion although the NBA has ruled that he should box Garcia in a neutral ring.

EAGLE WINNERS GUESTS

Columbus And Logan Men On Program At Excellent Meeting Thursday

James I. Smith, Jr., was re-elected chairman of the Pickaway District committee of the Boy Scouts at the annual meeting held Thursday night in the New American Hotel Coffee Shop. About 50 persons attended the meeting. Other officers reelected were the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey, advancement chairman; Herman Hill, finance chairman, and Ray Rowland, John Eshelman, Howard Orr and Marvin Stealy, members-at-large. Others elected included William D. Radcliff as organization chairman and Judge Meeker Terwilliger as a member-at-large. Clark Will gave the report of the nominating committee.

Mr. Radcliff, who is also district commissioner of the Boy Scouts, was toastmaster.

The four Pickaway district Scouts who were recently made Eagle Scouts and their parents, attended the meeting. They are Myron Gearhart, Kingston Presbyterian Church Troop 5; David Orr, Howard Hall Post, American Legion Troop 158; and Carl Bach and David Yates, both of Circleville Methodist Troop 107. The Eagle Scouts were introduced by the Rev. Mr. Kelsey.

Need For Leaders Cited

Phil Bradford, Columbus, president of the Central Ohio Area Council, spoke briefly on the necessity of leaders to meet the increasing demands for troops.

Mr. Smith presented a report for the year. At present there are 178 Scouts in the 10 troops in the county and this number will be increased steadily during the next year.

The Rev. C. H. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Logan, gave an interesting address on the frontiers that men have conquered in the past and pointed out there are still frontiers to be conquered in meeting present day problems.

Hilaire Haacker presented some accordion selections. Some dance numbers were given by Miss Viola May Alkire.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH TO OFFER PAGEANT SUNDAY

The Sunday School of St. John's Evangelical Church, Stoutsville, will present a pageant "Watchers on the Hills" on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The pageant portrays in a realistic way the question of the shepherd boy who is always asking "Have You Found Christmas?" Several groups who make their appearance have found time to find the true meaning of Christmas in its message, in worship, in forgiveness, in good will and in service.

MERCURY VARIES LITTLE

The temperature varied only eight degrees from Thursday afternoon until Friday morning. Highest recording Thursday afternoon was 32 degrees. Lowest recording for the night was 24 degrees. Fair and warmer weather was predicted for late Friday with rain Saturday.

Henderson Advises More Smaller State Prisons

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Warden Frank P. Henderson of Ohio Penitentiary today advocated more and smaller penal institutions for the state of Ohio.

"The present overcrowded penitentiary," the 58-year-old warden stated, "should be modernized and used as a classification and distribution center for smaller institutions, none of which should house more than 1,500 inmates."

The former adjutant general of Ohio, appointed warden by Governor John W. Bricker last August 24, declared that different types of institutions were needed for different types of prisoners.

"We should have institutions of maximum custody for prisoners who require closest supervision," he explained. "In the same manner, we should have other places for those who can be put to work under direct supervision—close custody institutions."

"Third should come medium custody places for those who can be trusted in dormitories, and lastly, minimum custody honor farms for honor prisoners."

Various classifications should not be mixed haphazardly, Henderson declared, but inmates should be promoted from one classification to another as they deserved it.

Not Coddling Men

"Don't get the idea I'm coddling prisoners," he continued, "because I'm not. It's just a case of dollars and cents to the taxpayer. Every man we make fit for rehabilitation means a saving not only of the $220 it costs annually to keep him in custody, but also the cost of his arrest, his conviction, and the loss to his victim."

Henderson outlined briefly the steps he has taken to modernize the 105-year-old institution—guard schools, reorganization of personnel, building improvements, better medical and dental facilities, even a cleanup campaign within the walls.

"Formerly there were junk piles in every corner of the institution," he said, "containing enough scrap iron to arm 2,000 men. When we cleared those piles up, we sold 330 tons of scrap iron!"

"But that's nothing to what still is to be done," he emphasized. "For instance, an 'electric eye' to detect the presence of metal in visitors' clothing is essential. But it would cost $1,600, and right now we haven't the money."

Henderson is given a free hand by the welfare department in running the institution—provided he stays within his budget. To raise needed money for added medical care of patients, the warden will renew tours through the institution at a ten cent fee.

4,075 Men There

Prison tours were discontinued after the disastrous 1930 fire in which more than 300 prisoners lost their lives. Investigators blamed many of the fatalities on the overcrowded condition of the penitentiary, built to house only about 2,000 inmates. Currently it holds 4,075 men.

Another step contemplated by the warden is the razing of several small buildings which he termed "fire traps." An unused building at the state fairgrounds will be moved to a suburban location, and used to store penitentiary materials that are needed only occasionally, and which could conceivably be used as deadly weapons, Henderson said.

A minor innovation by Henderson is the granting of courtesy cards to honorably retired guards, which give them all privileges of the institution. While more of an honor card than anything else, Henderson said they could be used to tour the institution or make available to their holders such privileges as the prison barber shop.

ELKS ARRANGE DINNER, INITIATION ON TUESDAY

ELMER BRINKER IS DEAD AT 68

Rites To Be Saturday For Native Of Walnut Township

Ashville, Phone 79 By S. D. Fridley

Elmer Brinker, 68, who was born, reared, and his early life spent in Walnut Township, died at his home in Columbus, Thursday. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Moody-Straley chapel with Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, general superintendent of White Cross Hospital, officiating. He is survived by his widow Hazel; a daughter, Mrs. Fina Kuhlwein, Lithopolis; two sons, Arthur and Robert, Columbus; a brother, Clyde, of Ashville; two sisters, Mrs. Maud Fellmuth, Danville, Ill.; and Mrs. Blanche Hockman of Portland, Oregon; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Burial at Glen Rest Memorial.

The new Church of Christ in Christian Union structure is slowly taking form but much work yet remains to be done before ready for occupancy.

Unadvertently the names of Calvin and Mrs. Scothorn were omitted from the list of those who gave a week ago who attended the funeral of Hays Dill at Washington C. H.

The Santa Claus Christmas tree is up at Long and Main and shining out at its best with big star as a crowning point. Hoody Brintlinger, Cecil Scott and C. A. Bainter were the erectors and decorators. And a fine job it is. You're invited and it costs nothing to see it.

For the several last months Ashville has been visited by a number of parties hunting a location and a suitable room in which to operate a picture show, and up to this time none have found a suitable place. Yesterday another party was here and found what he thought might be, with considerable rearranging, made to fit the requirements. So there is at least a possibility that Ashville may yet have that long talked of picture show. Not in the sure stage yet, so we're calling no names.

refused to call a special session of the legislature to cope with the relief "crisis" in Ohio's larger cities.

His other speech was to be delivered this morning at a meeting of the national association of insurance company presidents.

BRICKER SPEAKS TO GOTHAMITES

Executive Declares That No Relief Crisis Exists

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — The sovereignty of states is America's best safeguard against any threat of dictatorship in the United States, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio told the convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents today.

"The state governments of this country are the surest defense against dictatorship," he declared. "Forty-eight states well-governed, self-governed, dealing with the everyday needs of people, their officials well-known, are the safest guarantee of freedom and the cherished American traditions. They can never be molded into a corporate state or a socialistic society. They are the foundation stones of America."

Bricker also mentioned briefly relief conditions in Ohio, and denied there was "any crisis." He refused again charges made by President Roosevelt and New Deal officials that the Republican administration in Ohio had been neglecting needy persons.

WPA Slash Hit

"Last year in Ohio at election time we had 285,000 persons on WPA," Bricker explained. "Since that time the average reduction in the number of persons on WPA in the United States has been 43 percent. The reduction in Ohio has been 53 percent and in the city of Cleveland over 60 percent, clearly out of keeping with the national program and not consistent with the federal appropriation."

"This increased the relief rolls in Ohio tremendously and the relief responsibility has been left wholly to the states and local communities. This precedent was called, but never was, a crisis in Ohio relief. The power has at all times been in the cities of Ohio to do what they have now done in securing funds to take care of their needs."

Bricker refrained from any direct attacks on the President or his aides. He didn't even mention the "New Deal" but referred to only to the "federal government." When he placed the blame for the relief controversy, he did it mildly. He said:

"The federal government by the arbitrary exercise of the authority (Continued on Page Eight)

PARIS—Although quiet prevailed during the night, reports received in Paris today indicated that recent German patrol activities on the Western Front have become increasingly daring. Between the Blies River and Haguenau regions, it was reported, the German patrols encountered such stiff French opposition that a series of sharp engagements broke out between German sections and French outposts.

LONDON — Dropping two bombs, a British war plane sank a German U-boat within sight of the north coast of Scotland, it was announced today.

BERLIN—As a war measure, aluminum 50-pfenning coins will soon be placed in circulation in Germany, the official gazette announced today.

LONDON — Fearing reprisals for death sentences meted out to two members of the Irish Republican Army on murder charges, extra police patrolled London today and a special Scotland Yard branch remained active during the night. The I. R. A. members were sentenced in Birmingham for murder of five persons in a terrorist bomb explosion at Coventry last August.

TAFT CONTINUES HIS CAMPAIGN IN STATES OF EAST

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Dec. 15 — The New England swing of Presidential Aspirant Robert A. Taft, Republican senator from Ohio, took him into Connecticut today following an attack on New Deal bureaucracy delivered in the half-filled Springfield High School auditorium.

"The present administration believes the government can run the country better than the people can, that government bureaus can run the farms better than the farmers, and business better than businessmen," Taft told those attending the meeting sponsored by a men's Republican club.

Taft will meet with prominent Connecticut Republican at Hartford and call on Governor Raymond E. Baldwin who is regarded by some as a likely candidate for the vice-presidency. Later the senator and governor will motor to Darien where Taft addresses a gathering of Republicans tonight.

British Demand Ship Be Forced To Leave Port

Members Of Nazi Crew Begin Task Of Repair

36 SAILORS BURIED

Shipyard Workers Refuse To Help Germans

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 15—The crew of the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, still fresh from active participation in the greatest naval conflict of the war to date, took over the tasks of shipyard workers today in a desperate attempt to put the damaged vessel in seaworthy condition.

While the Uruguayan government debated whether to allow the battleship to remain here indefinitely for repairs or to bow to Britain's demand that she be sent to sea almost immediately, Captain Hans Langsdorff purchased a large quantity of materials and set his crew to work patching up the four gaping holes in her hull near the waterline.

Uruguayan dockyard workers had threatened to strike rather than work on repairing the swift sea raider which limped into Montevideo harbor after a long, losing battle with the British light cruisers Ajax, Exeter and Achilles.

Exeter To Enter Port

Coincidentally with this development, it was learned on good authority that the Exeter herself was so badly damaged that she is unlikely to take any further part in the war. The Exeter, navigating slowly with the aid of tugs, was scheduled to drop anchor shortly at Bahia Blanca, Argentina, with her cargo of some 100 wounded.

Meanwhile, a cortege of 36 hearses drew up alongside the Graf Spee this morning in readiness for the largest mass funeral ever witnessed in Montevideo—services for the 36 officers and men of the battleship who died in combat.

First estimates said that 38 (Continued on Page Eight)

CANTON POLICE HUNTING MISSING GIRL STUDENT

CANTON, Dec. 15—Police intensified their search today for 18-year-old Annie Hutchinson, missing from her home two weeks as attempts were made to locate the sender of two "fake" letters, one which said the girl was married and the other saying she is "still happy, with no regrets."

The girl's mother, Mrs. Annie Marshall, said she believed the letters were "fake" because her daughter would have signed them "Nannie," a name she used to distinguish her from her mother.

"Neither letter was in my daughter's handwriting," Mrs. Marshall told police.

The girl has not been seen since she left her mother's automobile and started for the McKinley High School building, where she was a student.

FINNS DECLARE REDS USING GAS

Desperate Battle Raging In Northern Area; Ski Troops In Combat

HELSINKI, Dec. 15—Under the polar twilight violent fighting raged in northern Finland today as embattled Finnish troops struggled desperately to hurt back Red army forces from Salmijaervi on the Norwegian border.

The fierce struggle raged on the northern warfront throughout the night and this morning, and the outcome still was in doubt at noon today.

Reports received in Helsinki charged the Russians were using poison gas, both in shells and air bombs, but there was no confirmation.

It was learned, however, that the Russians for the first time threw Red army ski troops into the fray, but they proved far inferior to the highly trained ski units of the Finnish army which have been swooping across the snow on Russian columns since the hostilities began.

Other fronts were comparatively quiet as the Finns sought to regain their hold on Salmijaervi, important nickel-producing town (Continued on Page Eight)

RUSSIAN RADIO SCORES GENEVA TALK BY BRITON

MOSCOW, Dec. 15—Through the medium of the Moscow radio, Soviet Russia today violently attacked the attitude displayed by the Anglo-French Allies at the League of Nations sessions which were culminated with Russia's expulsion from the League.

The radio announcer singled out a statement made by the chief British delegate to Geneva, Richard Butler, who urged the League shortly before it took final action to waste no time in dropping the Soviets.

"Butler's statement," said the announcer, "is an indication of Britain's intention to extend the war to Finland."

MOSCOW, Dec. 15—A secret clause has been added to the Anglo-French-Turkish mutual aid pact establishing an army "against Russia" in Turkey, according to a report broadcast by the Moscow radio today.

The broadcast said the army will be under French command and will consist of 40,000 French, 80,000 British, and 500,000 Turkish troops.

GERMANS SHOOT DOWN 10 PLANES

Half Of British Attacking Force Lost; Nazi Fleet Seen Heading South

BERLIN, Dec. 15—German pursuit planes shot down ten British bombing planes in a major aerial battle near the North Frisian Islands, a German war communiqué stated today.

British bombing attacks against other important German naval bases were unsuccessful, the statement indicated. It said:

"German anti-aircraft batteries at Borkum drove off a British bomber."

"Two other bombers attempted to attack Sylt. They dropped four bombs which fell into the sea."

"In an air battle resulting from a British attack on the North Frisian Islands, German pursuit planes shot down ten out of twenty British bombers, while one German chaser was forced to go down in the sea."

SAFE BURGLAR TO SERVE TIME IN OHIO PRISON

Felix Frank Jachim Admits Attempting To Rob Mill Company Offices

TERM ONE TO 15 YEARS

Sentence Is Second Handed To Strong Box Artists In Last Month

Felix Frank Jachim, Youngstown ex-convict, was under sentence Friday to the Ohio penitentiary after changing his earlier plea of innocent to one of guilty to charges of attempting to burglarize the offices of the J. W. Eshelman and Sons Milling Co., East Mill Street. Jachim, who appeared before Judge Meeker Terwilliger, was sentenced to serve one to 15 years.

Jachim was shot through the leg the evening of September 9 when he was discovered in the milling company offices apparently trying to break open the safe. He leaped through a window when he learned of his discovery but was stopped by a bullet from the revolver of Patrolman Charles Mumaw. A confederate made his getaway.

The Youngstown man left a kit of tools when he fled the mill office.

His sentence is the second handed out to a safebreaker by Judge Terwilliger in the last month. John F. Hyde of Chicago, receiving a one to 20 year term for breaking the safe at the Farm Bureau offices, East Main Street. The latter was discovered in the act of robbing the safe after he had broken it open. F. K. Blair, county agent who discovered him, spread the alarm and assisted Patrolman George Green in the capture.

Hyde claimed he was a former member of the British Royal Air Force and that he was in need of money to make his way to Toronto, Canada, to reenlist in the Canadian Air Corps.

Eight employees of the Circleville store will participate in this bonus, according to C. E. Little, manager.

Problem of Funds For City Schools Unsolved

Representatives of the city, county, budget commission, Circleville Board of Education and Business Council failed to work out a solution Thursday night in the attempt to solve the shortage faced by the board of education for operating expenses in 1940.

Approximately 25 persons attended a meeting for general discussion of the problem held in the Common Pleas courtroom. Forrest Short, county auditor and a member of the budget commission, was chairman.

Circleville's tax rate has been set at $14.80 per $1,000 in property valuation. The board of education desired an additional half a mill levy in its share from taxes which would bring in about $4,500. Without this additional levy the board will be faced with the task of reducing expenses in 1940.

The city rate includes the following distribution: board of education, 3.85 mills for operating expenses and 1.4 mills for bonds and interest; a total of 5.25; Circleville city, 4.5 for operating expenses and 1.5 mills for bonds and interest, a total of six mills; Pickaway County, 2.9 mills for operating expenses and .4 of a mill for bonds, a total of 3.3 mills, and the township .2 for the general fund and .05 for roads, a total of .25.

In a previous meeting both Circleville Township and the city managed to add .15 of a mill more to the school operating expenses.

The township granted the school .05 of a mill from its road fund. Circleville granted .1 of a mill from its bond levy.

Thursday night the city and township contended they could grant no additional funds to the board of education.

HAMPDEN AND CREWS

The second famous Shakespearean actor signed to appear this season on the Star Theatre is Walter Hampden, who, with Laura Hope Crews, will be heard Wednesday 9 p. m. over CBS in a special radio adaptation of "The Goose Hangs High," written by Lewis Beach.

One of the most successful of contemporary plays, "The Goose Hangs High" relates the efforts of a modern family to adjust themselves to difficult circumstances. Frankie Thomas, child actor, who played the mayor in "Boys' Town," will be heard in a supporting role. Background and music will be furnished by Lehman Engle's orchestra.

D. A. BUSTS RACKET

Gangster Rats McGurn is killed—an innocent boy in a howling alley is framed for his murder—and Mr. District Attorney uncovers the ballbond racket Sunday 7:30 p. m. over the NBC-Blue network. Jay Jostyn in the title role will be assisted by Arlene Francis as

"Miss Rand" and Len Doyle as "Harrington."

FORD RUSH

Ford Rush and the Fruit Jar Drinkers will be featured on the weekly Grand Ole Opry broadcast Saturday, Dec. 23, at 9:30 p. m. over the NBC-Southern Red network. Rush, formerly of Ford & Glenn, one of radio's first comedy teams, will sing "Wonder Is All I Do," an original number authored by Roy Acuff, also of the Grand Ole Opry company. His second song will be "There's A Gold Mine in the Sky." The Fruit Jar Drinkers will sing "Free As A Little Bird I Can Be," and "Jackie Boy," both old fashioned breakdown fiddling numbers.

BRIEF RADIO NOTES

Arlene Francis, "Miss Rand" on the District Attorney program, is considering an offer to conduct courses in radio acting at N. Y. U.

William Tuttle, director of The Shadow, is working on article dealing with the development of sound effects in radio from the primitive methods used in pioneer days to the elaborate equipment of today.

Ray Bauduc, ace drummer with Bob Crosby's Dixieland Band is finishing what will be the smallest "real drum" in the music world. Bauduc is responsible for many improvements in drums and traps.

Elsbeth Eric, of Betty and Bob, who is also working in Claire Booth's Broadway play, "Margin For Error," is never seen without her crochet work. Currently she is finishing a sweater and a belt, every stitch hooked, while waiting for her cues on one or the other show.

Bob Trout, the newscaster, is working on a book dealing with American history of the last 20 years in terms of newspaper headlines reproduced from the country's leading papers.

Bob Hope is preparing the hundred best original gags of the 1938-1939 radio season. . . . when the task is done, he expects to have the gags bound in pigskin and presented to the nine boys who write his Tuesday Night show.

Tommy Riggs is working on a difficult vocal trick which will enable him to sing duets with Betty Lou.

Star Theatre Songstress Frances Langford is teaching Emcee Ken Murray the LaCongo so he won't have to sit it out when Frances and Jon give their South American party January 1.

Betty Lou Gerson, "Connie Tremaine" on Arnold Grimm's Daughter, is recording her own Christmas greetings in song as a surprise to radio cohorts who don't know she's been taking vocal lessons for almost a year.

STATE TO RANK HIGH IN AIDING AGED RESIDENTS

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Ohio will rank among the top three states in providing for its needy aged during 1939, Tom McCaw, Old age pension chief, declared today.

McCaw based his prediction on a study just completed by the division, from January through September, Ohio paid its recipients grants totaling $23,407,860, an amount surpassed only by two other states, California and New York, with approximately twice the population of Ohio, paid recipients but slightly more than the Buckeye state during the nine-month period McCaw said the study showed that Ohio for the entire year probably would surpass payments of New York.

In the number of persons aided, only Illinois and California surpassed Ohio during the nine-month period. Illinois aided 135,721; California had 134,668 on the rolls and Ohio, 120,925.

Ohio ranked fourth in the average grant per recipient with payments of $22.69 per pensioner. California ranked first, Massachusetts, second and New York, third.

DOUG FAIRBANKS FUNERAL RITES TO BE SIMPLE

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Dec. 15 —Funeral services without pomp or elaborate ceremony were to be conducted today for Douglas Fairbanks.

Only 150 men and women of Hollywood, those who were closest to the great actor during the quarter century he spent as a dashing motion picture hero, were scheduled to gather in the Wee Kirk of The Heather at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale.

There was to be a simple eulogy spoken by the Rev. Neal Dodd, pastor of the Episcopal Church of St. Mary of the Angels, and music by Chico De Verdi, noted violinist, and other musicians who had played "set music" for the star.

A curtained room off the chan- cel of the little church was set aside for Fairbanks' widow, the former Lady Sylvia Ashley; Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., his son; Robert Fairbanks, brother of the actor, and other members of the family.

Pallbearers were Fairbanks' oldest friends in Hollywood, Char- lie Chaplin, Sid Grauman, Joseph M. Schenck, Tom Geraghty, Clarence Erickson and Charles Lewis.

Mrs. Fairbanks, who has been under the care of a physician since her husband's unexpected death Tuesday from a heart at- tack, was able yesterday to choose the casket—a massive bronze coffin.

No formal cards of admission to the funeral services were issued, but attendance was restricted to those who worked with the actor or were included among his unusually extensive list of friends.

And then there's that young Canadian who has been shot at 1,000 times. War hero? Nope — just an ice hockey goalie.

Old Man Winter Halts Great Lakes Shipping After Record Season

Great Lakes freighter unloading coal at Duluth

Automobiles from Detroit being transported on the Great Lakes

DETROIT, Dec. 15—A boom-time Great Lakes shipping season which, at its height, put into commission every available steamer, has just drawn to a close.

The end of the season is not because the demand for those commodities carried in the lake freighters has lessened. It is because of weather conditions, and consequent dropping of insurance.

The 1939 season wiped out unemployment among Great Lakes mariners and, shippers believe, will have resulted in shipment of 70,000,000 tons up and down the inland waterways. The major cargoes are iron ore and grain down-bound and coal upbound.

Shipowners who, in the past, have tried to beat the weather bogus and operate their freighters after Dec. 12 deadline have always met with one disaster or two. The sudden storms of early winter have played havoc with many a freighter in the long history of Great Lakes shipping.

Regular insurance rates expired Nov. 30. After that, and until Dec. 12, insurance is available, but at a higher rate. After Dec. 12, no company will take the risk of writing insurance on the Great Lakes ships.

Ships of the United States light-house service began their annual task of removing buoys and other aids to navigation a few days ago. Ships have made their last trips into Lake Superior, where most of the iron ore is shipped from Duluth, Minn., or Ashland, Wis. Grain from the northwest is also shipped from these two ports.

The 64 ore-carriers of the Pittsburgh Steamship company fleet are among those that made their final Lake Superior trips before Nov. 30. The last of them, in fact, made its downward trip through the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., on Nov. 23, well ahead of the insurance deadline. But in other years, when the demand for ore has not been so great, the last downward voyage of these ships has usually been made about Nov. 1.

The demand for ore based on war orders is the major factor which has caused shipowners to prolong their carrying season this year. During the first 20 days of November, 7,594,980 tons of ore were moved out of Lake Superior. Surplus ore, to last through the Christmas vacation, candies and cookies will be made to fill gift boxes. Ordinary unattractive boxes have been converted into artistic gift boxes. These boxes of candies and cookies will be given to the girls' mothers for Christmas gifts.

Pupils in junior and senior English have been studying informal essays of modern American writers, after reading original ones.

Several students deserve mention for outstanding work in this writing: "Tractor and I," Bob Strous; "On Reading a Newspaper," Charlotte Schaaf; "The Kid Next Door," Virginia Kane.

The annual PTA Christmas program will be held in the school auditorium on December 21 at 8 p. m. All rooms, which will be decorated for class programs on December 22, will be open for observation on this night. The high school chorus will present a cantata and Santa will make his usual visit. Christmas vacation is from December 22 to January 2,

CORN LOAN PLAN FOR '40 NEARLY LIKE LAST YEAR

J. G. Boggs Discloses Three Changes In Program Under AAA

INTEREST RATE DOWN
Procedure More Simplified;
Rate On Mixed Crop To Be 55 Cents

Pickaway County farmers will find only three changes in the new corn loan program for 1939-40 as compared with the loan which is made on 1938 corn.

John G. Boggs, chairman of the Pickaway AAA Committee, said changes are:

(1) Commodity Credit Corporation has reduced the interest rate from 4 to 3 percent on all commodity loans.

(2) The procedure for obtaining loans has been simplified so that a farmer may sign his note, chattel mortgage, and insurance certificate all in the same trip to the county office.

(3) The loan rate on mixed corn in the commercial area will be 55 cents a bushel instead of 57 cents.

The loan rate of 57 cents a bushel under the 1939 corn loan program is the same as the rate available in commercial corn counties in 1938, except for the change with regard to mixed corn. Pickaway County is in the commercial corn area. All farmers in the commercial area who planted within their 1939 corn acreage allotment are eligible for a loan under the new loan program.

Since a larger number of Pickaway County farmers are participating in the 1939 AAA Farm Program, more farmers are eligible for corn loans than in 1938. Approximately 35 Pickaway County farmers took loans on their 1938 corn.

Loans will not be made on any corn with a moisture content greater than 20½ percent. Loans will be available from December 1, 1939, to March 31, 1940, and will be due August 1, 1940.

Parables of the Kingdom

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Newman Campbell
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for December 17 is Matthew 13:1-53, the Golden Text being Isaiah 55:3, "Incline your ear, and come unto Me, hear, and your soul shall live.")

THE WORD "parable" means something cast alongside of something else, that is, a comparison. Jesus often talked in parables, telling stories that illustrated His message.

In this lesson Jesus "spoke many parables." They all illustrate the way in which the message Jesus brought work in the world to those who accept it and follow His teachings.

First in our lesson He told the story of the man who went forth to sow. Some of his seed fell by the roadside and birds quickly gobbled it up. This means, of course, that no matter how eloquent the preacher and how marvelous and helpful his message, there are some who do not respond or understand.

Some of the seed fell on rocky ground where it sprang up in the soil that covered the stones, but was quickly withered when the sun came out brightly because it had no roots to give it moisture. These are the people who listen to the message, but it does not sink into their consciousness and soon passed out of mind. Some fell among thorns, and were smothered by them, meaning that some who heard let worldly things crowd out the Good Word.

Some Heard and Believed
But some there were who heard and believed and tried to follow the teachings, and these were the seeds that fell into good earth and grew and ripened and were harvested.

The Kingdom of Heaven Jesus likened to a grain of mustard seed, which is the tiniest seed known in Palestine. Mustard sometimes grows to the height of 15 feet in Palestine and that parable shows how the teachings of Jesus grow from a small beginning to a great height, filling one's life.

The Lord said the Kingdom of Heaven also is like leaven, or yeast, as we say, which a woman puts into a mixture of meal and in time it makes the whole mass light. You will know what He meant if you have ever seen a woman make bread or raised dough of any kind. It is also like a treasure which has been hidden in a field. A man finds it and then sells all he has and buys the field, because this treasure is worth more than everything else a man might own.

And finally, He compared the message to a pearl of great price, the perfect pearl, which the pearl merchant was seeking, and when he found it, he sold all his other wares and bought this perfect one.

Sends Multitude Away
After telling these parables, Jesus sent the multitude away and went into the house. As His disciples gathered around Him they asked to have the parables He had been telling explained. So He told them what He meant, and told them other stories, asking them if they understood what He had been saying and they said they had. Whereupon Jesus "departed thence."

The Christian religion surely is a "pearl of great price," and we should, indeed, sell all we have and take it and live it.

"The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law," it is written in Galatians 6:22, 23, and it goes on, in verse 25 and 26: "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another."

If one lives the real Christlike life one lives as these last quoted lines indicate. "Be not deceived, God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he reap."

MILLIONS TO BE USED TO GUARD U. S. FROM RAID

Program Is Being Drafted To Make Nation's Shores Invulnerable From Air

TO BUY AIRCRAFT GUNS
Committee Days Important
Phase Of Military
Worked Neglected

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Plans for a $100,000,000 program to make the United States invulnerable to air attack are being drafted by army officials, it was learned today.

This sum would be spent to add thousands of anti-aircraft guns to the national defense establishment. Both fixed and mobile armaments are envisaged in the air defense plan.

Each strategic center of the nation would be equipped with modern air defense weapons of a sufficient number to lend them material assistance in beating off invaders from the sky.

An authoritative source disclosed that the military forces are woefully inadequate in this defense category. It was revealed that the army currently has less than 600 modern type anti-aircraft guns that can be utilized for defending the United States against a bombing attack.

900 Defend London

A striking illustration of the inadequacy of anti-aircraft defenses is furnished by the fact that England has almost 900 anti-aircraft guns defending London alone.

Disclosure of the projected expansion program for anti-aircraft defenses followed a few hours after a congressional committee reported that this important phase of American military preparations is being neglected.

The congressional group, headed by Senator Thomas (D) Oklahoma, and composed of members of the house and senate military affairs and appropriations committees, conducted an extensive inspection tour of various army facilities. Speaking for the group, Thomas, in a formal statement, asserted that "special and immediate attention should be given to defense measures against possible enemy air attack."

"To that end," he continued, "the best possible anti-aircraft gun, rifle, and weapons generally should be developed and placed in the hands of specially trained units to combat possible attack by enemy planes."

War department officials concurred in the opinion of the committee. They indicated that the blame for inadequate anti-aircraft facilities is largely on the shoulders of congress because of its failure to appropriate sufficient funds for this equipment.

Thomas reported that his committee probably will recommend funds to carry out the war department's anti-aircraft defense objectives. The group was satisfied with the progress being made in the development and manufacture of army airplanes. It noted, however, that development of infantry, field artillery, cavalry, coast artillery and signal corps units are lagging behind the aviation units.

Another recommendation of the committee will call for modernization of artillery field armaments and a speedup in the production of semi-automatic rifles.

EX-GOVERNOR OF N. HOLLAND MAY NEBRASKA RUNS ISSUE BOND TO FOR CONGRESS BUILD PROJECT

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 15—Charles W. Bryan, 72-year-old brother of the late William Jennings Bryan, today was preparing for the "one more good fight" he says still is in him.

Bryan's fight, according to his announcement, will be to win nomination for congress in the 1940 Democratic primary. Bryan, the first man to serve three times as governor of Nebraska, declared something might happen to make him change his mind before the time arrives for him to file for the nomination, but that his "present intention" was to make the race.

Bryan was elected governor in 1922, 1930 and 1932. In the 1934 primary he was beaten by U. S. Senator E. R. Burke, and in 1938 he tried unsuccessfully to run as an independent candidate for governor. He served two terms as mayor of Lincoln and was the Democratic vice presidential candidate in 1924.

BROWDER TALKS AMID BOOS AND JEERS AT M. I. T.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 15—Calm returned to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology campus today following a speech made yesterday by Earl R. Browder, Communist leader, under the handicaps of stench bombs, boos and jeers, sounding of fire guns and the smashing of a plate glass window in one of the auditorium doors.

Browder declared the Soviet attack on Finland was necessary to insure the safety of Leningrad.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—Earl R. Browder, Communist party leader, will talk to a politics class at Columbia University but the date of his appearance was being kept a dark secret today to preclude any campus demonstrations.

Only the instructor knows the date and he has decided to tell no one.

Student leaders at City College of New York threatened to appeal to the board of higher education the faculty council's affirmation of the ban on a proposed speech by Browder.

TO SAFETY DEPARTMENT

OFFICIALS: Appointment of Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell as a new city traffic official meets with unanimous approval, I am certain. Mr. Fissell, who has made the study of crime and its detection his life's work, should be a most valuable addition to the city department. He is well-trained, efficient, fearless and fair. His work during the last nine or 10 years in the sheriff's office has been outstanding and he has had much to do with making the Pickaway County sheriff's office one of the most efficient in Ohio. His appointment means that Circleville's traffic situation will be eased. At the present time with no officer on duty during the day who has time to check traffic, motorists, local and out-of-town, speed through the heavily-populated and business districts as though they were on the range; they ignore traffic lights and pedestrians. With a capable traffic officer going on duty about the middle of January, it is certain that the condition will be improved.

TO TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS

FRIENDS: I was very pleased to learn that a group of you had met with county officials to work out arrangements for purchasing a fire truck to be used in fighting rural flames and to assist on major city runs. The movement toward purchase of the truck was started last summer immediately after the Circleville "antiquated" pumper was disabled. It has taken several months for steps leading up to the purchase to reach a head, but now the order has been placed, and all necessary arrangements have been completed for moving the truck into Circleville where it will be manned and housed. Whether a couple of other townships are to be included in the cooperative program is not yet certain, but it is likely that they will come in. The need for a fire truck which would be available for rural runs has been proved time after time, and you are to be congratulated for completing your program leading up to the actual purchase.

TO C. OF C., ROTARIANS

CIVIC CLUBS: Both of your organizations showed your true civic spirit this week when you stepped in to help boost the movement being pushed to provide new uniforms for the High School band. There isn't any question that an organization as good as ours should be better equipped than the present band is. The fact that your organizations are behind the project means that it is certain to be successful.

TO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

DIRECTORS: The suggestion of the Chamber of Commerce that the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the Pumpkin Show, employ the Circleville High School Band for the entirety of the celebration and pay it accordingly deserves serious consideration by you directors. Prof. C. F. Zaenglein and members of the High School Band have certainly served the Pumpkin Show organization in a splendid manner. In addition, the band and its director have always been ready and willing to do their part in any civic celebration, rain or shine. The band should be given first consideration for the celebration. Now the organization is in need of new uniforms and various activities are being sponsored to provide funds for these uniforms. Every resident should lend support to this program.

TO KIWANIS

MEMBERS: Your club certainly deserves congratulations on its plans for the Christmas party next Monday for children from needy families. To entertain 35 youngsters at dinner, give them treats and each one a sweater involves considerable expenses. Following the party the youngsters will be the guests of the Grand Theatre. Other Circleville civic organizations should follow the steps taken by Kiwanians to make the lives of underprivileged children brighter and help them become good citizens.

CIRCUITEER.

TO CITY OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: When will Circleville have some more traffic lights? For several years efforts have been made to obtain traffic lights for some of the dangerous intersections in the city. Two lights were obtained for intersections at the high school building for the protection of children. That seemed to end the interest of city officials in making Circleville safer for motorists and pedestrians. Three more lights are needed. There should be lights at Pickaway and Franklin, Pickaway and Main and Pickaway and Watt Streets.

SPEAKER: Congratulations on your winning the Pickaway County Prince of Peace contest held last Sunday night in First United Brethren Church. Circleville and Pickaway County folk wish you good luck in the district event in January.

TO CIRCLEVILLE RESIDENTS

FOLK: This year, as in former years, the Circleville Benevolent Association will provide many baskets for Circleville's needy families for Christmas. Donations are needed to provide these baskets. Help share your Christmas with some family less fortunate. Persons who have anything to contribute toward the Christmas baskets are asked to leave their donations at the City Cottage before Friday morning, December 22.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

OUR STATE department voices considerable strictly unofficial surprise to note that Japan's press expresses a good bit of sympathy with Finland, in connection with the present Russo-Finnish situation. The Tokio government hasn't said anything, but Nippon's newspapers and news associations are almost outright pro-Finnish.

Of course the Japanese though now on comparatively friendly terms with Moscow, for years have been either passively hostile toward the Russians or, part of the time, at open war with them. It's a tradition which may have something to do with their press attitude at the present juncture. Still, Tokio certainly has been generally classified of late as a totalitarian outfit—as not at all likely to have a kindly feeling toward the freedom-loving Finns.

For enlightenment I consulted my friend, Masuo Kato, Washington correspondent of Japan's premier press agency, Domei.

"The explanation," said Correspondent Kato, "is that Nippon is thoroughly democratic. Naturally we're sorry to see an unfortunate little democracy overrun by a big despotism."

SEMI-BELIEVABLE
If I never had been in Japan I probably wouldn't have believed this.

But I've sojourned there twice. And on both occasions it seemed to me to be a democratic country. These visits occurred during peace intervals, to be sure. Civil authority prevailed and my observation was that it was as democratic as in the United States—possibly more so.

Right here, when a war's on, individual rights are somewhat encroached on by our militarists. In Japan militarism's rule is enormously exaggerated.

In peace time, though, the Jap government's as approachable as the personnel of any American department store. All the visitor needs is to present some reasonable excuse for an interview and he gets it, and is sociably listened to.

Perhaps the ground was broken for me a trifle. The American news agency I represented was affiliated with the Nippon Dempo Tausin Sha. Nippon means Japan. Dempo means company. Great Japanese Telegraph company!

N. D. T. S. Director Mitunaga bossed this setup and made dates for me. N. D. T. S. Foreign Editor Ryonusuke Seta attended to them. I saw my mogul I wanted to, and he was more communicative than any official I ever met in Washington.

Correspondent Kato tells me that Prince Saonji is the greatest democrat in history. I got to him as easily as I could see a postoffice clerk.

Strategy in War on Tuberculosis

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

MANY changes have occurred in the handling of tuberculosis in recent years. In my own lifetime, which covers a professional experience of about 30 years, the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis have been revolutionized. The procedure used to be to depend on a history, examination of the patient with a stethoscope and an examination of the sputum. We now know that a great many cases would be missed if this procedure were adhered to.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

History—If a patient has symptoms of tuberculosis, including fatigue, cough, expectoration, night sweats and fever, it is usually an advanced case. Nowadays, therefore, we try to get them before symptoms occur.

True Also of Sputum
The same is true of sputum. If we wait until tubercle bacilli are found in the sputum, we wait too long. The use of percussion and the stethoscope are still valuable procedures to check findings, but few modern physicians are accurate enough in their use as well enough trained to obtain good results. It is possible nowadays, with modern x-ray technique, to take a group of people and pass them rapidly through the hands of the x-ray man and obtain nearly 100 per cent correct diagnoses. In other words, if the x-ray is negative, there is a very good chance that no tuberculosis exists. On the other hand, it picks up changes in the lung in the very early stages of tuberculosis, allowing treatment to be carried out early.

The campaign against tuberculosis has the following features at different ages:

Pre-school age—Here the important thing is to avoid contacts. Any person in a household, no matter what the age, who has a chronic cough, is suspect. Many people carry an active tuberculosis up to the age of 60 or 70, infecting their children and grandchildren. This is an unpleasant subject to discuss, but, according to our modern methods, it is a disagreeable necessity to face the facts.

Grade school age—All pupils should be examined with the tuberculin test and the suspicious ones should have their chests x-rayed.

Age from 12 to 18—Reinfection occurs frequently at this age and school children should be re-examined carefully. It is one of the most dangerous ages for development of tuberculosis.

College age (20 to 30)—The home circle and the dangers have been left behind, but the possibilities of new contacts arise. Tuberculin tests and the x-ray pictures should be made routinely on college students.

Age 30 to 50—Tuberculin test is of little value at this time, but the x-ray is still a valuable diagnostician.

The improvement in our results by this sort of a plan makes us feel that our efforts are having positive value and that before long we can actually banish tuberculosis from the face of the earth.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. H. W.: "I am a young man of 22. For a long time I have been bothered with a condition which causes a mouthful of slimy saliva to form. As soon as I spit it out, it forms again. Will you please tell me what causes this and what to take for it?"

Answer—The cause of this uncomfortable symptom is frequently a small stone in the duct which comes from the salivary gland. Other causes are nervousness and excessive use of tobacco, and jagged and irritating teeth.

Stylish Tradition

WINTER'S BRIDE may take her vows in wool, cut as beautifully as silk, but ten to one she'll have at least one negligee of satin in her trousseau. It's traditional and it's flattering, and not as much of a luxury as in mother's day. The model shown, for instance, is about what any girl would consider paying for the most important robe in her life. It comes in pink and blue, with a back panel and deep wrap in front. Hand-run Alencon lace is generously used as accent for the sheen of the satin. Obviously such a negligee is easily matched in nightgowns and satin slippers.

The mantel shelf was beautiful with its garlands of evergreen, red candles burning at either end. A large silver bell was placed in the center.

The tea table where Mrs. W. E. Lamb poured during the social hour, had a large round mirror in the center on which were placed tall white candles in red apple holders, intertwined with evergreens. Christmas greens were used throughout the home.

BRITISH DEMAND SHIP BE FORCED TO LEAVE PORT

men died aboard the Graf Spee during the battle, but the arrival of 36 hearses indicated that the initial reports were erroneous. Otto Langmann, German minister to Uruguay, declined an offer of burial space in the British cemetery, choosing interment in the Protestant northern cemetery of Montevideo.

Earlier reports that the government had decided to permit the vessel to remain in Montevideo Harbor to carry out repairs were denied by authoritative quarters, where it was stated the government has not yet made up its mind on the question.

It was expected that government ministers would renew their consultations on this point at midday, and informed circles indicated that everything pointed to the possibility that British insistence that the Graf Spee either be interned or forced to depart would prevail.

The question must be settled today, it was stated, but no one, not even the highest officials of the government know what the final decision will be.

This morning the most reliable information was that when Uruguayan Foreign Minister Alberto Guani retired at 3 a. m., there was still no definite decision.

The British argued that the German ship should be interned or permitted to remain for the usual 24 hours in port, with one 24-hour extension—a total of 48 hours which would expire at midnight tonight.

Nazi Claim Disputed

German claims that the Graf Spee is unable to sail were countered by the British, who said that a vessel able to sail into a port at full speed, as did the Admiral Graf Spee, usually is able to sail out again.

Meanwhile, with appropriate ceremonies, funeral services were held early this morning for the 38 members of the German pocket battle ship's crew who were killed during the running battle at sea.

Owing to increasing anti-Nazi sentiment in Montevideo, police took special precautions to prevent possible disturbances during the funeral ceremonies. Authorities were determined to prevent a repetition of yesterday's dockside rioting.

If the government decides that the Graf Spee must leave or be interned, and if the German officers decide to depart, it appeared almost certain that another naval battle will occur outside Montevideo Harbor.

Two of the British cruisers which took part in the sea battle, the Ajax and Achilles, were waiting some 30 miles outside the harbor. It was reported that they were being joined by the 61,000-ton battleship Barham, the powerful battle cruiser Renown and the aircraft carrier Ark Royal.

Two at Capetown (London reports yesterday stated the Renown and Ark Royal recently visited Capetown, which would place them within fairly close sailing distance to Montevideo.)

The third British vessel which took part in the battle, the cruiser Exeter, was seriously damaged. It sent a wireless message to Argentine authorities requesting permission to enter the port of Bahia Blanca for the purpose of disembarking 100 seriously wounded members of its crew.

(At Buenos Aires, the newspaper El Sol reported the arrival at Bahia Blanca of a seaplane from the Exeter, carrying a gravely wounded British officer and the bodies of two others who died during the flight.)

Sixty-one British officers and seamen were brought ashore from the Admiral Graf Spee and conducted to the British consulate, where the entire staff began taking individual sworn depositions from each of them as to their experiences. They were from British ships sunk by the Graf Spee during recent weeks.

Among the released British prisoners were the captains of the seamen Newton Beech, Streangall, Trevanion, Doric Star and Huntsman and the first officer of the Africa Shell.

The Africa Shell officer, Patrick Dobe, was the sole survivor of the sinking of that vessel, in which nearly 200 persons were reported to have perished.

Among the seamen were crew members of the steamers Ashlea and Traivola, which also went down with nearly all hands.

Fair Treatment Reported The Englishmen were closely confined below the Graf Spee's decks throughout the naval battle and all during the fight had no clear idea of what was happening. They said that they were treated well by the Germans, and that while food aboard the Graf Spee was rationed at a rock-bottom basis, they were no worse off in this respect than the Graf Spee's own crew.

The rioting at the docks occurred late yesterday when a crowd of more than 20,000 gathered near the Admiral Graf Spee shouting, "Down with Germany!" The demonstration was quickly subdued by mounted police.

The mass manifestation of anti-Nazi sentiment reached its highest point when one of the German warship's officers, with his eyes and arms bandaged, was led down the gangway.

Instead of inspiring sympathy, the sight of the wounded man seemed to infuriate the crowd. At this juncture the police charged and cleared the entire port zone of spectators.

which lies on one of Finland's most important overland routes to Norway.

Further South, in Finland's middle or "wasp waist" sector, it appeared that the Finns had definitely halted the Russian drive in the Sall-Kamajervi region, thereby spiking a Soviet attempt to cut Finland in half.

Middle Drive Feared Military authorities in Helsinki had considered the Russian drive across middle Finland even more dangerous than the Red penetration in the Far North.

Other advisers said the Finns also sent a column of troops on the Central Front into Russian on a counter-invasion push against the Leningrad - Murmansk railway which parallels the frontier. This was done with the apparent object of cutting Russian communications with the armies in the Arctic.

In the North, Salmijarvi was in flames when the Russian forces reached it after carrying through their offensive with tremendous force from both the North and East with troops from Murmansk and others which landed at Lina-hamari. Many mechanized units participated in this drive.

Resistance Stiffens

After the Russians reached Salmijarvi, however, Finnish resistance appeared to stiffen, and from the Norwegian side of the border heavy artillery and machine gun fire was heard, according to advances from Copenhagen.

Two Russian battalions took up defense positions at Kuolantunturi, just north of Salmijarvi, and groups of Russian tanks reached a point on the northern highway just opposite the Norwegian town of Svanvik. Several of the Soviet tanks were destroyed.

MRS. MYLES BEELER HAS POETRY IN MAGAZINE

Mrs. Myles Beeler of Wooster, the former Gladys Wentworth of Circleville, has a poem entitled "A Star Spangled Lullaby" in the new issue of the Buckeye, the magazine published by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Beeler is a daughter of Mrs. Grace D. Wentworth of West Union Street. She is president of the Junior Women's Club of Wooster. Mrs. Beeler attended Wooster College.

The poem follows:

A Star Spangled Lullaby
Gladys Wentworth Beeler
Little child, at close of day,
Tuck your pretty smile away.
Hide the stars within your eyes
From the stars up in the skies.

Rest your wee arms 'round me,
dear,
And plant a kiss close by my ear.
Then snuggle down and go to sleep
While God above his watch will keep.

Thank God that you may safely rest,
Those are but stars there in the west.
No bombing planes leaps 'cross the sky
To Make my wee soft baby die.

Dutch Mine Their Vulnerable Harbors

HIGHLY vulnerable to attack from the sea, Holland is protecting her harbors with an intricate system of underwater defenses, supplemented by land fortresses. Here is one of the tiny railroads used to carry munitions to the waterfront. At left, loads of shells are being carried to one of the forts, while at right a trainload of mines is carried up for planting in Dutch waters.

GERMANS SHOOT DOWN 10 PLANES

ing to a London announcement four German and three British planes were shot down.

The planes that returned reported they sighted a German naval fleet consisting of a battleship, a cruiser and a number of destroyers and submarines steaming to the South.

Some quarters in London attempted to link these vessels with heavy gunfire which was heard off the southwest Norwegian coast near the scene of the famous World War battle of Jutland. But at present, however, there was nothing to substantiate the theory that there may have been a major naval engagement in that area during the last few days.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Heavy German patrol activity broke out again on the Western Front today, particularly in the area between the Vosges Mountains and the Blies River.

Near the Blies, two German reconnaissance patrols penetrated the advanced French lines but were driven off.

Later a French two-section patrol encountered a similar German group in no man's land and a hot fight developed in a Vosges Mountain forest. There were some casualties on both sides.

A war ministry spokesman, meanwhile, confirmed reports that "some movements" of German troops have been noted by the French during the last few days.

Reports received in Paris indicated that the recent German patrol activities have become increasingly daring.

BILLY MYERS DISPLEASED WITH REDLEG CONTRACT

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15.—Declaring that a $1,500 raise was not enough, Billy Myers, Cincinnati Red shortstop, today returned his 1940 contract unsigned.

"Not interested," was the curt reply Myers was reported to have attached to the document when he received it at his home in Fairview, Pa.

General Manager Warren C. Giles expressed surprise when he learned Myers was dissatisfied with the pay boost.

"Billy is a good shortstop and did a swell job for us last season," Giles said. "But I don't believe he is a good enough ball player to go hog wild over what he believes he is worth."

BRICKER SPEAKS TO GOTHAMITES

thority to distribute WPA funds had created a situation in Ohio that it determined "critical."

"These matters, distressing as they are, must be worked out as between the states and the nation in a cooperative way. We are all sympathetic with the needs of the people. No public official wants anyone to be hungry, cold or in need of shelter, but it is a mighty dangerous thing for any government authority to use the necessities of people and their distress for political preferment or advantage."

The governor criticized federal officials for withholding from Ohio $1,300,000 in old age pension money because of a controversy between the social security board and former Democratic Gov. Martin L. Davey. He merely referred to Davey as "my predecessor."

"In the term of my predecessor the federal government was using the old age pension department for political purposes," Bricker stated. "A primary campaign was on in our state and the candidate supported by the national administration was a national committeeman from Ohio, attempting to defeat the then governor of Ohio."

PRIME MINISTER GOES TO FRONT TO VIEW TROOPS

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain arrived in France today and will spend several days inspecting the British Expeditionary Force.

Chamberlain's first visit to the battle lines follows a similar tour by King George VI which carried the British monarch to virtually every point in the British lines.

Since the king's visit, however, British troops have taken over a section of the French front lines and London circles today were speculating as to whether Chamberlain would visit those advanced posts.

TWO COUNTRIES PAY DEBTS, BUT OTHERS DEFAULT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Today is "World War debt payment day." Two tiny countries that didn't even exist when the first World War started will be the only payers. They will pay $244,521. This would leave 15 other European nations owing Uncle Sam exactly $14,604,916.104.56.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, acting as receiving teller, will have a short day's work.

At 11 a. m. Hjalmer Procope, minister from Finland, which was the Duchy of Russia prior to the 1914 war, handed over 234,693, thus maintaining his nation's record of never having missed a principal and interest payment when due.

Hungary, part of the Austro-Hungarian empire until the war, already has laid down a check for $9,828.

From the others, led by Britain owing $5,574,430,793; France, $4,200,332,646, and Italy, $2,025,525,996, the usual notes "regretting" inability to pay, will be received. Lithuania and Yugoslavia, in fact, has already "regretted."

If Morgenthau could translate these missives into cash, he could have balanced the budget for the last five years.

MARTIN SENDS HOLIDAY SHADOW BOX EASTWARD

A shadow box approximately 16 feet square was shipped Friday by Hildebrand Martin of the Martin Display Service to a funeral director in Beaver Falls, Pa., for display during the holiday season.

The shadow box, one of the finest ever made by the display service, shows the Christ Child, Holy Mother, shepherds and the manger. How the order was received from Pennsylvania was a surprise to Mr. Martin. He received a telegram asking him to quote a price for the box desired. The order was placed immediately after the price was given.

NEW YORK PUTS FOUR ON 'STAR'

Only One Green Bay Gridders Able To Make Coaches' Mythical Selection

By Lawton Carver

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — Incredible as it will seem to the Green Bay Packers and their devoted followers, the coaches of the National Professional Football League regard only one of the new league champions as worthy of a place on the annual all-pro team, while four New York Giants and three Chicago Bears are selected. The Packers probably would like mention to be made at this point of the fact that they pounced on the Giants last Sunday and mauled, fought, scurried and hacked their way to a 27 to 0 victory to win the professional title in the playoff.

Despite all that, the coaches select only don Hutson, the former Alabama end, as a representative of the Packers on the first team of the mythical lineups announced today. Even Clark Hinkle, of the Green Bays, all-league fullback for the last three seasons, failed to make it this time.

The first team averages slightly more than 200 pounds, although, paradoxically, the lightest man in the league made up of bruisers, earned the quarterback spot, the same being 150-pound Davie O'Brien, former Texas Christian star who broke forward passing records for the Philadelphia Eagles after he had overcome a slow start.

Only team failing to get any recognition was the Pittsburgh Pirates, while Mel Hein a fixture at center with the Giants for a decade has just about assumed a similar role with the all-pros. He was named to the first team for the seventh consecutive time.

Each coach picked two teams, the first team balloting counting five points and the second team balloting three points, the resultant all-stars being as follows:

FIRST TEAM
Team	Position
Hutson	Green Bay	LE
Stydahar	Chicago Bears	LT
Fortman	Chicago Bears	LG
Hein	New York	C
Del Isola	New York	RG
Barber	Washington	RT
Poole	New York	RE
O'Brien	Philadelphia	QB
Leemans	New York	LH
Farkas	Washington	RH
Osmanski	Chicago Bears	FB

Ends—Perry Schwartz, Brooklyn, and Jim Benton, Cleveland; Tackles — Bruiser Kinnard, Brooklyn, and Ed Widseth, New York.

Guards—George Musso, Chicago Bears, and Orville Tuttle, New York.

Center—Ki Aldrich, Chicago Cardinals.

Quarterback — Ace Parker, Brooklyn.

Halfbacks—Parker Hall, Cleveland, and Lloyd Cardwell, Detroit.

Fullback — Johnny Drake, Cleveland.

Cecil Isbell, the old Purdue ace, finished in a tie with Cardwell for the second team right half-back spot, each polling 20 points, but Cardwell won out with four first team votes to one for Isbell.

RED AND BLACK SQUAD TRAVELS TO CHILLICOTHE

Walters And Davis III, But May Participate In Friday Contest

A battling Circleville basketball team, that was so ashamed of itself after losing by a lopsided score to Greenfield that it defeated a highly-favored Lancaster five, travels to Chillicothe Friday evening to take on Coach Earl Young's usually strong team. The game will be the first for the Ross Countians and the third for the Red and Black.

The illness bugaboo bobbed up Friday when Paul Walters, and Whitey Davis, forward, were under the weather. Neither practiced Thursday evening, but both hoped to be ready for Friday's game. Frank Geib, reserve team guard, is definitely out tonight because of illness. Several other members of the squad are suffering from colds, but all are expected to see action.

Starting Five Same

Coach Roy Black will stick with his starting five of Davis and Smith at forwards, Walters at center and Staley and Boushler at the defensive spots. If Walters is not able to go the full route Staley will probably move into the center spot with Clark Martin going to guard. Caillhan would replace Davis.

The Chillicothe team has not yet been tested by competition, but Young expects his three tall boys, Stout, Brooks and Hedgepath, to carry the load until his green forwards are ready for the fast pace. The Chillicotheans will have a decided height advantage over the Red and Black.

The reserve tilt is booked for 7 o'clock and the varsity game an hour later. Ralph Crook and E. J. Wilson, Lancaster athletic director and football coach, respectively, will officiate.

A full slate of contests is booked for the county courts Friday evening with action to take place in five centers. The feature contest will probably take place at New Holland where Ashville's unbeaten boys are scheduled to provide opposition.

Williamsport is host to Jackson, Washington goes to Walnut, Salt-creek is Pickaway's guest and Scioto goes over to Darby, the girls' game being watched in this one.

Several schools are revising their schedules during the next week because of holidays vacations, the games scheduled including Williamsport at Perry, Walnut at Jackson, New Holland at Washington, Pickaway at Ashville and Scioto at Monroe.

SKELETON IN PARLOR

DALLAS, Tex.—The home of S. B. Helyer of Dallas is crowded—not only with visitors but also with a collection of the bones of a prehistoric animal. Helyer has taken in the remains of huge beast discovered in Pecos County near the New Mexico border. The ribs are the size of barn rafters, the four-foot tusks as big around as fence posts and the leg bones as large as a tree trunk. The jaws are three feet across at the base and about four feet long.

CAR BEATS BLIND

REHOBOTH BEACH, Cal.—Bagging wild geese from an automobile in one section of Rehoboth is proving more profitable than working from a blind. Several hunters found that the birds were feeding on a farm jutting out into the bay. They parked alongside the road, remained seated in their cars and brought down the wild fowl. Gunners hidden in blinds along the shore finished the day empty-handed.

Wonders To Stage Cage Show Monday At C.A.C.

A great basketball show is expected at the Circleville Athletic Club gymnasium Monday evening when the Waterloo Wonders invade the court to take on the Athletic Club team. A preliminary will be played, but as yet both principals have not been signed.

The Wonders, who came out of the Lawrence County hills a few years ago to really make the cage game interesting for the fans who pay hard cash to watch it, retain all their earlier passing and shooting features and, in addition, have added much experience to their repertoire.

VANZO RATES AS TOP GRIDDER IN BLOCKING ROLE

DETROIT, Dec. 15 — There are pitifully few figures after Fred Vanzo's name when it comes to ground-gaining.

Yet this absence of statistical glory detracts not one whit from the 230-pound Detroit Lion half-back's worth as a football player.

Fred is a block back, one of that particular breed of gridgers whose delight is bouncing husky opponents from the path of his ball-carrying teammate. The husky former Northwestern University player is particularly adept at taking the key man of the opposing line or backfield out of the play sufficiently long for the man with the ball to pick up yardage.

In his one and one half years in the professional ranks, Vanzo has carried the ball only a few times and then for deceptive purposes.

As a Northwestern freshman Vanzo carried the ball with vim. Came his sophomore year and Fred's ambition's as a ball-carrier suffered a severe blow. His size, agility and speed fitted him ideally for the post of blocking back. And there he has remained, through three years of collegiate football and since 1938 in the pro ranks.

In the highly specialized and smoothly-functioning professional ranks a man of Vanzo's peculiar ability is of enormous value. As Lions' Coach Gus Henderson puts it:

"Without a doubt he is the best inside back in the pro league. We have been talking of this team as a unit. The backs work because the line is good and the line is good because they get help from the line-backers."

"Fred, more than any one represents that unity. He is as hard a worker as there is on the field."

N.Y.U. Coach Expects Sophomore Star To Become World's Greatest Runner

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—Sights and cities along the big stem today. Emil Von Elling, N. Y. U.'s veteran track coach. "My sophomore miler, Les MacMitchell, may develop into the greatest runner the world has ever seen."

Nat Holman, C. C. N. Y.'s wonderful basketball coach, and himself one of the all-time greats of the cage game. "Our boys run to brains, not beef, that's why we have such fine basketball and chess teams. . . and such light football teams. . ."

Gene (White Tie) McCann, veteran Yankee scout. "Connie Mack once had a $100,000 infield, but Joe McCarthy has one worth more than twice as much. . . and the whole Yankee team probably would bring a million bucks cash if put on the market. . ."

Joe (I should of stood in bed) Jacobs. "My Tony (Galento) will belt out Max Baer sure. . . and reminiscing. . . "fighters do funny things some times. . . like when Frank Zamaris is fighting Melio Bettina. . . Frank's not doing so good. . . but at the end of the seventh round he comes back to his corner and says. . . 'why ain't you guys told me I wuz fighting a southpaw?'. . . there he is fighting a lefty for seven rounds and don't know it. so he steps out in the eighth and flattens Bettina. . ."

Dumb Dan Morgan. "trouble with most of these modern fighters is they take a walk around the block for their road work. . . where the old timers ran 10 miles or more every day. . . so they have no confidence in their ability to go the route. . . reminds me of a heavyweight we used to have around here years ago. . . he lacked the old confidence. . . so his manager used to have him trained with a guy who had one short leg. . . and every time this short-legged guy would get hit or shoved he'd go over. . . only trouble was the manager couldn't find any short-legged guys for regular fights. . ."

Mike (Mr. Boxing) Jacobs. "after Morgan disappears. . . that Morgan pulled a hot one on me at my last fight. he has a prelim boy in an emergency bout. . . kids like that get $25 if they're not used and $100 if they fight. . . 98 percent of the time they're not needed. . . so Morgan tries to put the arm on me for a c-note because he's got a sure thing running at Jamaica. . . well, I slip him $30, bet a few megas myself on his hot tip. . . and the good thing runs last. . . that guy's a total loss to me. . ."

Herbert (racing commissioner) Swope. "buying horses is a better gamble than betting on them. . . 14 yearlings were sold for $196,300 in 1938. . . and their total earnings this year were $8975. . . Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane drew the biggest bust. . . when she paid $22,000 for Romanov. . . and the colt has never yet run a race. . ."

Billy Conn. "who's a pretty fair amateur cartoonist. . . copying the big painting of Joe Louis that hangs in Mike Jacobs' office. . . and marking an X on Joe's jaw. . . "That's where I hope to shoot a few right hands one of these days. . ."

JERSEY SEEKING HOSTAK AND GARCIA RING BOUT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—The National Boxing Association today announced an offer had been received from Chairman Abe J. Greene, of the New Jersey Boxing Commission, to stage an Al Hostak-Ceferino Garcia middleweight title contest in the Jersey City armory.

Hostak has declined to meet Garcia in New York or California, while Garcia declined the bout in Seattle. Garcia is recognized as champion by the New York and California commissions. Hostak is the NBA's champion although the NBA has ruled that he should box Garcia in a neutral ring.

PICKAWAY BOY SCOUT DISTRICT ELECTS OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

50 PRESENT AS ANNUAL DINNER SESSION IS HELD

James I. Smith, Jr., Chosen To Serve As President Through 1940

EAGLE WINNERS GUESTS

Columbus And Logan Men On Program At Excellent Meeting Thursday

James I. Smith, Jr., was re-elected chairman of the Pickaway District committee of the Boy Scouts at the annual meeting held Thursday night in the New American Hotel Coffee Shop. About 50 persons attended the meeting. Other officers reelected were the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey, advancement chairman; Herman Hill, finance chairman, and Ray Rowland, John Eshelman, Howard Orr and Marvin Stealy, members-at-large. Others elected included William D. Radcliff as organization chairman and Judge Meeker Terwilliger as a member-at-large. Clark Will gave the report of the nominating committee.

Mr. Radcliff, who is also district commissioner of the Boy Scouts, was toastmaster.

The four Pickaway district Scouts who were recently made Eagle Scouts and their parents, attended the meeting. They are Myron Gearhart, Kingston Presbyterian Church Troop 5; David Orr, Howard Hall Post, American Legion Troop 158; and Carl Bach and David Yates, both of Circleville Methodist Troop 107. The Eagle Scouts were introduced by the Rev. Mr. Kelsey.

Need For Leaders Cited

Phil Bradford, Columbus, president of the Central Ohio Area Council, spoke briefly on the necessity of leaders to meet the increasing demands for troops.

Mr. Smith presented a report for the year. At present there are 178 Scouts in the 10 troops in the county and this number will be increased steadily during the next year.

The Rev. C. H. Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Logan, gave an interesting address on the frontiers that men have conquered in the past and pointed out there are still frontiers to be conquered in meeting present day problems.

Hilaire Haecker presented some accordion selections. Some dance numbers were given by Miss Viola May Alkire.

The pageant portrays in a realistic way the question of the shepherd boy who is always asking "Have You Found Christmas?" Several groups who make their appearance have found time to find the true meaning of Christmas in its message, in worship, in forgiveness, in good will and in service.

Henderson Advises More Smaller State Prisons

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Warden Frank P. Henderson of Ohio Penitentiary today advocated more and smaller penal institutions for the state of Ohio.

"The present overcrowded penitentiary," the 58-year-old warden stated, "should be modernized and used as a classification and distribution center for smaller institutions, none of which should house more than 1,500 inmates."

The former adjutant general of Ohio, appointed warden by Governor John W. Bricker last August 24, declared that different types of institutions were needed for different types of prisoners.

"We should have institutions of maximum custody for prisoners who require closest supervision," he explained. "In the same manner, we should have other places for those who can be put to work under direct supervision—close custody institutions."

"Third should come medium custody places for those who can be trusted in dormitories, and lastly, minimum custody honor farms for honor prisoners."

Various classifications should not be mixed haphazardly, Henderson declared, but inmates should be promoted from one classification to another as they deserved it.

Not Coddling Men

"Don't get the idea I'm coddling prisoners," he continued, "because I'm not. It's just a case of dollars and cents to the taxpayer. Every man we make fit for rehabilitation means a saving not only of the $220 it costs annually to keep him in custody, but also the cost of his arrest, his conviction, and the loss to his victim."

Henderson outlined briefly the steps he has taken to modernize the 105-year-old institution—guard schools, reorganization of personnel, building improvements, better medical and dental facilities, even a cleanup campaign within the walls.

"Formerly there were junk piles in every corner of the institution," he said, "containing enough scrap iron to arm 2,000 men. When we cleared those piles up, we sold 330 tons of scrap iron!"

"But that's nothing to what still is to be done," he emphasized. "For instance, an 'electric eye' to detect the presence of metal in visitors' clothing is essential. But it would cost $1,600, and right now we haven't the money."

Henderson is given a free hand by the welfare department in running the institution—provided he stays within his budget. To raise needed money for added medical care of patients, the warden will renew tours through the institution at a ten cent fee.

4,075 Men There

Prison tours were discontinued after the disastrous 1930 fire in which more than 300 prisoners lost their lives. Investigators blamed many of the fatalities on the overcrowded condition of the penitentiary, built to house only about 2,000 inmates. Currently it holds 4,075 men.

Another step contemplated by the warden is the razing of several small buildings which he termed "fire traps." An unused building at the state fairgrounds will be moved to a suburban location, and used to store penitentiary materials that are needed only occasionally, and which could conceivably be used as deadly weapons, Henderson said.

A minor innovation by Henderson is the granting of courtesy cards to honorably retired guards, which give them all privileges of the institution. While more of an honor card than anything else, Henderson said they could be used to tour the institution or make available to their holders such privileges as the prison barber shop.

ELMER BRINKER IS DEAD AT 68

Rites To Be Saturday For Native Of Walnut Township

Ashville, Phone 79 By S. D. Fridley

Elmer Brinker, 68, who was born, reared, and his early life spent in Walnut Township, died at his home in Columbus, Thursday. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Moody-Straley chapel with Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, general superintendent of White Cross Hospital, officiating. He is survived by his widow Hazel; a daughter, Mrs. Fina Kuhlwein, Lithopolis; two sons, Arthur and Robert, Columbus; a brother, Clyde, of Ashville; two sisters, Mrs. Maud Fellmuth, Danville, Ill.; and Mrs. Blanche Hockman of Portland, Oregon; three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Burial at Glen Rest Memorial.

The new Church of Christ in Christian Union structure is slowly taking form but much work yet remains to be done before ready for occupancy.

Inadvertently the names of Calvin and Mrs. Scothorn were omitted from the list of those who gave a week ago who attended the funeral of Hays Dill at Washington C. H.

Ashville—

The Santa Claus Christmas tree is up at Long and Main and shining out at its best with big stars as a crowning point. Hoody Brintlinger, Cecil Scott and C. A. Bainter were the erectors and decorators. And a fine job it is. You're invited and it costs nothing to see it.

Ashville—
For the several last months Ashville has been visited by a number of parties hunting a location and a suitable room in which to operate a picture show, and up to this time none have found a suitable place. Yesterday another party was here and found what he thought might be, with considerable rearranging, made to fit the requirements. So there is at least a possibility that Ashville may yet have that long talked of picture show. Not in the sure stage yet, so we're calling no names.

GOVERNOR GOES EAST TO SPEAK AGAINST FOES

He is expected to make a vigorous answer to charges that have been hurled at him by the Roosevelt administration because he has refused to call a special session of the legislature to cope with the relief "crisis" in Ohio's larger cities.

His other speech was to be delivered this morning at a meeting of the national association of insurance company presidents.
